*In my mind
I've climbed mountains,
But through my hands only have passed the seas.*

*Impressions of light and sound that others have felt also.
Still, I go only when others have been first.*

*To ask myself questions whose answers I do not know.
To find my final stopping place which only time will show.*

*When the pages are turned,

Student Interests Range From the Sound of Music to the Smell of Printer's Ink

Climbing mountains to goals was the aim of each club and organization of the school. Common interests brought individuals together to exchange ideas and to find new outlets of creativity. Different fields of interests within the student body brought about new clubs while others faded with old ideas.

Established organizations such as Keyettes, band, and cheerleaders sought to make this year different from any other. Community and nationwide projects were tackled, more intricate music was attempted, and new cheers were instigated. Each club strove to stabilize its organization and to make its name established. Members of clubs new to extra-curricular activities this year worked to give their groups lasting direction and to contribute new spirit to the school.

SCA Sponsors Fund Raising Projects During School Year

"Warrior Willy" bumper stickers, key chains, and stationery were sold by the Student Cooperative Association to raise money. To purchase backboards for the tennis courts, they also sponsored a bottle drive as class competition. The class that collected the most bottles was awarded points toward the giant spirit jug presented at the end of the year.

President Bill Porch presided over the many assemblies presented by the SCA. In August new members to the Warrior reservation were welcomed by SCA officers and faculty members. Various aspects of Warrior life were presented in a skit by SCA representatives.

Throughout the year assemblies were held not only to inform but to entertain the student body. After a recent tour of South America, the Navy Show Band performed at Kecoughtan. Their songs ranged from old ones such as "I've Got a Lot of Living to Do" to popular tunes such as "Spinning Wheel."

Under the direction of Mrs. Joel Grimm and Mrs. Dorothy Fleck, the SCA filled ditty bags to send servicemen in Vietnam. Each homeroom contributed articles such as washclothes, soap, razor blades, and toothpaste to the bags. The soldiers overseas also received Christmas cards from members of the student body.

Pride and school unity were stressed in SCA elections held in March. Two candidates for each office presented their campaign speeches in a special assembly before the student body.

Changing records keeps President Bill Porch busy at a dance sponsored by the SCA.

Representatives Plan Elections

Planning dances, organizing elections, and setting up assemblies were just a few of the jobs done by SCA Representatives.

Each homeroom elected a student to attend the bimonthly meetings presided over by Bill Porch. The representatives brought ideas from their homerooms to the SCA meetings and then reported back to homerooms on the action taken. It was through these representatives that the SCA reached all the student body.

Recruiting SCA committee members, these students enlisted the aid of the people whom they represented. Within their homerooms they promoted special SCA projects such as the Toys for Tots Campaign, Warrior Week, Christmas cards to men in Vietnam, and a clothing drive for Eastern State Hospital.

During a SCA workshop Neil Smith listens to Mr. Dave Nelson's lecture on parliamentary procedure.

Peggy Dixon, Joan Scott, and Bill Miller listen as carnival plans are discussed.

ICC Sponsors Spring Carnival, Homecoming Parade, Club Day

Chaos erupted at the ICC Carnival when the Thespian Bash-Splash broke, spilling water on everyone in the gym. The object of the booth was to dunk a student in a tank full of water by hitting a board with a ball.

Twenty-five clubs earned money by operating such booths as Cat's Mouth, Coin-Toss, and Drive-a-Nail at the second annual Inter-Club Council sponsored spring event.

Coordinating events between all the clubs in school, President Dale Danielian made certain that none of the clubs had bake sales, doughnut sales, car washes, or other money raising projects on the same day.

Club Day was sponsored by the ICC soon after school started. Each club set up an exhibit in the library and students were allowed to go in during both lunches.

ICC members set up the 1969 Homecoming parade. They were responsible for getting the cars, planning the parade route, and contacting judges.

Homecoming plans are discussed by ICC President Dale Danielian and Barbara Turner while Cathy Stronski and Sharon Herring wait to ask their questions.

MHS Donates Tutoring Time

Tutoring was the main money raising project for the Math Honor Society this year. Members were available to help students in their homes. Tuesday afternoons free tutoring was offered to those students seeking help in geometry.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Charlotte Remaley, the society contributed articles to the SCA ditty bags for servicemen overseas. Money was also given to the Toys for Tots Campaign.

Dale Danielian acted as president of the Math Honor Society while Fred Parker handled the club's activities in the event of Dale's absence. Larry Reece took care of the financial affairs while Janice Hardrath was kept busy recording the minutes during the bimonthly meetings.

Students maintaining a 3.0 average in math were inducted into the MHS in May.

NHS Inducts New Members

Scholarship, leadership, and service were the qualifications of twenty-two students inducted into the National Honor Society. The special ceremonies, held in April, featured the lighting of the symbolic candles and a speech by Mr. Harry B. Dyche, Jr., principal.

Members of the NHS operated their bookstore during both lunches. Paperback books were available for all students to purchase. The NHS cooperated with English teachers by ordering large numbers of books such as Of Mice and Men and The Old Man and the Sea for students studying them in class.

National Honor Society members attended the NHS state convention and also a seminar at William and Mary. The purpose of these meetings was to coordinate the activities of the local chapters.

Speech Contest Includes Prose, Current Events

Impromptu speaking on current events was included for the first time in the Speech Club's Forensic Contest held in the spring. Other divisions included prose, public speaking, poetry, and spelling.

Speech Club members participated in the American Legion's city-wide Oratorical Contest. Jerry Talton's speech won first place in the competition.

"Challenge of Freedom" was the national topic for the "I Speak for Democracy" contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. First place was awarded to Pam Campbell.

Along with Warrior Tom-Tom and the Debate Team, the Speech Club operated a booth in the ICC Carnival and entered a float in the Homecoming Parade. They also sponsored many speech contests.

KHS Debaters Concentrate On US Involvement

Resolved: "that Congress should prohibit United States unilateral military intervention in foreign countries." Debate squad members argued the pros and cons of this 1969-1970 debate topic during the entire school year.

Kecoughtan debaters sponsored their first district invitational tournament in November. Held at William and Mary, the tournament consisted of squads from nine area high schools. Kecoughtan took third place affirmative and third place negative. Individual squad members Barbara Turner and Steve Saunders took fifth place affirmative and fifth place negative, respectively.

Novice debaters from the district schools participated in a Round Robin. This practice session stressed techniques of debate and enabled the debaters to become familiar with the topic. A workshop was also held at James Blair High School in Williamsburg.

Students Enter Honor Society

Candles symbolizing leadership, truth, friendship, initiative, integrity, loyalty, and learning were lit by Quill and Scroll members at the annual initiation in April.

Thirty-four students and four teachers were inducted into the society for outstanding work on the Tomahawk, Torch, Tribal Tales, or Warrior Tom-Tom. Mrs. Bessie Horton, secretary at Prestige Press, was initiated as an honorary member.

Held in the library, the induction ceremony featured Jim Livengood, Daily Press photographer, as guest speaker.

Torch: Marty Link, Steve Hefferman, Patsy Painter, Barbara Rogers, and Fain Rutherford.

Looking through the magazine, Barbara Rogers and Kathy Romine discuss the art work to be included.

'70 Magazine Features Art

Photography was a new feature in the 1970 Torch. Published in December and May, the magazine was comprised of prose, poetry, and art. A greater emphasis was placed on art than in past years. Sketches and designs were submitted from the art department for use in both the fall and spring editions.

Editor Barbara Rogers, with assistance from Fain Rutherford, worked along with other Torch members to select the most interesting articles from those submitted. In order to represent all students, a variety of literary material was chosen from book critiques and analyses to haiku, a Japanese form of poetry which restricts its author to three lines totaling seventeen syllables.

Along with Mrs. Evelyn Hayes, Torch sponsor, staff members sold theater tickets for the Paramount's Student Enrichment Series. Profits were used to publish the magazine.

"I felt the article was appropriate . . . To say the faculty is apathetic is unfair."

Such comments were heard concerning the Tribal Tales' editorial on teacher apathy. In a later issue of the paper, teachers were allowed to voice their opinions. Along with other staff members, co-editors Vicki Blevins and Barbara Easter discussed subjects ranging from college costs to dress codes in their editorials.

Mrs. Joel B. Grimm aided the newspaper staff, composed of second year journalism students, in publishing fourteen editions of Tribal Tales. In addition to being purchased by the student body during the school day on Friday, these papers were exchanged with other schools throughout the United States.

Ranking fourth in the state of Virginia, Tribal Tales received a superior rating in the Virginia High School League. The paper also was awarded first place by Columbia Scholastic Press and the Quill and Scroll International Award.

"Where are my pictures? . . . Have you got any pages ready?" Such questions were frequently asked as deadlines for the 1970 Tomahawk approached. Many after school hours and Saturday mornings were spent working to produce the best possible annual.

Checking pages, making sure deadlines were met, and distributing pictures kept Debbie Stewart, editor, busy. Monica Moorehead checked copy for spelling mistakes and editorializing, while Belinda Sikorski acted as business manager.

Tomahawk sales were held twice this year. Staff members sold annuals during both lunches in December and May.

Bethel High School hosted an annual workshop in the spring. Colonel Charles Savedge, yearbook adviser from Augusta Military Academy, discussed page layouts, cover designs, and copy writing.

Pondering over a headline, Calvin Dunn and Guy Davis check to make sure it will fit on a page.

New Equipment Aids Tomahawk Photographers

Christmas brought the Tomahawk photographers a long-awaited present from the annual staff. A new Fujica camera, drum dryer, and enlarger were purchased to enable the photographers to take and develop better pictures.

As their picture taking assignments included after school club meetings, sports events, and special events such as the Miss KHS Pageant, the Junior Ring Dance, the Senior Prom, Sophomore Co-Rec Night, and the Keyette's Celebrity Auction, the photographers seldom left school at 3:00 p.m. and often came on Saturday mornings.

During school Danny Charles, Mike Tolliver, and John Wilt were responsible for covering all assemblies, classes, and capturing faculty members throughout the school day.

With deadlines nearing Tomahawk members often called on the photographers for last minute pictures. They were also asked to reprint lost pictures or to touch up pictures needed for the annual.

Tom-Tom Staff Airs Programs

Returning for its fourth year, the Kecoughtan radio program, Warrior Tom-Tom, was broadcast every Saturday morning at 10:40 a.m. on WVEC. A twenty minute program was presented each week during the school year. Tom-Tom members were divided into four staffs with each staff producing the program once a month.

Warrior Tom-Tom aired news, sports, and feature reports along with personal interviews. Special programs were done on marijuana, marine biology, and the tennis tournament held at Hampton Institute.

In addition to reporting school news, Warrior Tom-Tom members also participated in school activities. Under the direction of their adviser, Miss Carole Lushinsky, the staff participated in the annual Homecoming Parade and the ICC Carnival.

Class of '70 graduates were honored with a special program in May. Outstanding seniors who excelled in academics or sports were recognized during the broadcast.

Drama Club Expands Horizons

Drama Club—Front Row: Tommy Meador, Stephanie Bainbridge, Yvette Williams, Sharon Marsh, Bonnie Thompson, Yolanda Jones, Becky Burgess, Drinda Franzen. Second Row: Mr. Thomas Miller, Ken Wooden, John Hanchy, Sharon Roberson, Cynthia Macmullen, Donna Mansfield, Pam Tardy, Belinda Blain, Bob Shreve. Third Row: Scott Jacobs, Cindy Cave, Roy Shreve, Jennifer Brown, Darcy Hess, Betsy Flowers, Vicki Hubert.

As members of the Drama Club, students were expected to participate in the KHS dramatic productions. To fulfill this obligation, some members actually performed in the plays, but more often they were important in completing back stage work. Club members were an essential part of the productions for their work on stage crews, costumes, and make-up. Detailed art work and complicated make-up and costumes were a necessary part of each production.

Outside activities for the members included field trips to Wedgewood Dinner Theater, the Virginia Museum, and attendance at a William and Mary Theater seminar.

President Scott Jacobs conducted the meetings which were held every other Tuesday. At these meetings plans were made for field trips and seminars.

Drama Club members who did outstanding work and showed a real interest in the school dramatic productions were rewarded for their efforts by being inducted into the National Thespian Society.

Thespians Perform in Assembly

Students were granted membership into the National Thespian Society for having performed meritorious work in the dramatic arts. After becoming members, they served in an advisory capacity for dramatic productions. Student directors from the society assisted Mr. Thomas I. Miller, drama teacher, in the direction and production of Kecoughtan's four major plays.

In order to raise funds for the spring musical Once Upon A Mattress, the Thespians presented "One-twenty-fourth of a Day of Entertainment." It was composed of various skits, commercials, and a one act play, "The Denouement," which was also presented in competition at William and Mary earlier in the year. The production was performed at an assembly for which admission was charged.

Thespians also provided entertainment for spectators at the SCA Carnival with their booth, the "Bash Splash," which was the highlight of the afternoon when the tank collapsed and eight hundred gallons of water sent everyone scurrying.

Beaming, Frank Dynes receives his certificate from the National Thespians from Mr. Miller.

Long hours of after school practice made the KHS band a vital part of the school. Band members boosted spirit in pep rallies and provided entertainment during the halftime of every home game.

In addition to performing in three concerts at school, the band was involved in the community, also. They participated in the Hampton Fair Day Parade, the Christmas Parade and the Armed Forces Day Parade. In December the band taped a television show of Christmas music in Portsmouth and presented programs to area elementary schools.

Kecoughtan was well represented in Regional Band with twenty-two members participating. Fourteen Kecoughtan musicians went to Workshop Band. The entire stage band, as well as several members of the concert band, journeyed to Lynchburg to try out for All-State Band Honors. Senior Steve Dyer represented KHS at All-State Band which was held at Norfolk in April.

Dale Underwood was featured as a saxophone soloist in the Fall Concert. He is a member of the U.S. Navy Band in Washington, D. C. The Christmas Concert was highlighted by several numbers of Russian Christmas music. Robert Jager, Director of Band Activities at Old Dominion University, was guest conductor for the Spring Concert held in May. Mr. Jager, an accomplished composer and arranger, directed the band in two of his own compositions.

Standing in recognition, guest soloist Dale Underwood is applauded for his performance.

Majorettes Spark School Spirit

Under the leadership of head majorette Jane Mayo, squad members promoted school spirit and brought recognition to Kecoughtan. Bonnie Thompson captured the second runner up position in the Miss Majorette of Virginia competition.

Daily after school practices helped majorettes develop routines for half-time entertainment and pep rallies.

Squad members also participated in the Hampton Fair Day, Christmas Parade, Shenandoah Twirlerama in Charlottesville, and the Armed Forces Day Parade. In addition to these activities, the majorettes were also the official usherettes for all band concerts.

Capes, necessary to protect the majorettes from the cold winter months, were added to the usual winter uniforms.

Tryouts were held in May for the selection of '70-'71 majorettes. A faculty panel selected the squad on the basis of twirling, appearance, and coordination.

During a pep rally, Barbara Wilson steps high to the music of the band.

Choir Tapes Christmas TV Show in Portsmouth

With the American flag as a backdrop, Tony Young, Ralph Richerson, Ned Johnson, Joe Brown, and Joe France perform several patriotic numbers in the Fall Concert.

Members of the A Cappella Choir experienced many "firsts" this year. Under the direction of Mrs. Lucile Sutterer, the choir went to Portsmouth to tape a television show of Christmas music. They performed with all other city high schools in the Hampton Roads Coliseum and sang for the School Board Credit Union Banquet.

Choir members performed in assemblies at Syms and Kecoughtan as well as the annual concerts. Featured in the Fall Concert were Fred Harvell as soloist and Frank Dynes and Danyal Lawson at the piano performing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Also included was a choral selection from the popular musical, George M! Miss Rachel Foster, student teacher from Hampton Institute, directed the choir in three numbers in the Christmas Concert.

Kecoughtan was well represented at the All-Regional Chorus in February by having twenty-six students participating. Jane Mayo, Judy Reason, Patti Parks, Ralph Richerson and Tony Young journeyed to Norfolk for the All-State Chorus in April.

In addition to the honorary awards given to outstanding choir members at the Spring Concert, a scholarship fund was initiated to aid a graduating senior in his pursuit of a musical education.

Choruses Join

Directed by Mrs. Lucile Sutterer and accompanied by Frank Dynes, the Boys' Chorus performed in Kecoughtan's three annual choral concerts.

Jackie Rhea and Norman Belton were featured as soloists in the Fall Concert. Traditional carols and old favorites dominated the Christmas Concert. "There's Nothing Like a Dame," "The Halls of Ivy," and "Amen" were some of the numbers featured in the Spring Concert. For the first time the Boys' and Girls' Choruses combined to sing "God Made Our Hands," "Sing a Rainbow," and "The World Is My Home" in the Spring Concert.

Accompanist Frank Dynes was chosen as Outstanding Boys' Chorus member of the year by his classmates.

Under the direction of Mrs. Lucile Suterer and accompanied by Emma Zeigler, the Girls' Chorus performed in the fall, winter, and spring concerts. Consolidation of Girls' Chorus into one class eliminated the need for after school rehearsals.

Girls' Chorus members led the student body in Christmas carols at the Christmas assembly.

"Charade," "When Shall I Be A Bride?" and "Summertime" were a few of the numbers presented at the Spring Concert. An added attraction was the combination of the Girls' and Boys' Choruses for the first time. The attire for the Spring Concert was formal.

Emma Zeigler stands in awe after receiving the honor of Outstanding Girls' Chorus Member.

Key Club Publishes Student Directory

Selling basketball and football programs and ushering at school functions, the Key Club was active in school as well as community projects. Key Clubbers served their community by collecting for ALSAC and other nationally known charities such as Muscular Dystrophy.

On March 8, Key Clubbers participated in Apple Jelly Sunday. Apple Jelly was sold for a dollar a jar, and proceeds went towards the construction of a summer camp for the mentally retarded children of Virginia. The project, which involved Key and Keyette Clubs all over the peninsula, successfully raised the necessary money.

Student directories were published by the Key Club and sold for fifty cents as the clubs' main money making project.

Third place in float competition was captured by a combined effort of the Keyette and Key Club in the Football Homecoming Parade.

Four Kecoughtan Key Clubbers attended the International Key Club Convention held at the Golden Triangle in Norfolk in March. The purpose of this annual convention was to exchange views with Key Clubbers from across the country and to receive awards for outstanding club achievements. The four members who attended were Giff Murray, John Read, Fred Parker, and David Rowe.

Keyettes Aid American Indians

Led by President Linda McGehee, Keyettes were constantly involved in projects which benefited the school and community and afforded great personal satisfaction to members. They collected for ALSAC and muscular dystrophy and made regular visits to the Veterans' Administration and community centers.

"Fireside Fantasy" was the theme for the annual Mistletoe and Holly Ball which was given by the Keyettes and Key Club as a joint effort.

An autographed copy of Rod McKuen's Lonesome Cities and Playboy cufflinks from Hugh Hefner were two of the main attractions at the second annual Keyette Celebrity Auction. Proceeds of over two hundred dollars went to the American Indians, the International Keyette Project.

Sponsors, Miss Debra Smith and Miss Cheryl Meidinger, encouraged club members in all activities and were very often participants.

Keyettes often received surprises from their secret pals, who were co-members in the club. Pajama parties proved to be a great time to work on voodoo crabs for the Hampton game or address envelopes for the Celebrity Auction.

Funds raised at the booth at the SCA carnival were used to sponsor a Keyette to Girls' state.

Devoting their Saturday, Keyettes Barbara Rogers and Ann Williams work at a club sponsored car wash.

Each month the Y-Teens participated in a YWCA sponsored activity. Under the leadership of President Debbie Watkins, the Y-Teens devoted most of their efforts to projects involving the school and community.

In order to stimulate interest and promote membership, the Y-Teens opened the year with a coke party. During the year members participated in a drug abuse forum, a doughnut sale, and Recognition Night. Seven club members journeyed to Washington, D. C. for the National Convention.

As part of their school service, the Y-Teens made pencil holders for the office staff and presented the librarians and Mrs. Mildred Insley with corsages. For Easter they made Easter baskets filled with candy for each teacher.

Y-Teens were also active as a service club in the community. They made diddy bags for the men in Vietnam and gave a Christmas Party for the children at the Virginia School for the deaf and blind. Bingo parties were given for the men at the Veterans' Administration, and visits were made to the childrens' ward at Dixie Hospital and Bayberry Hospital.

Volunteers Meet With Mr. Dyche

Volunteer firemen met monthly with Mr. Harry B. Dyche, Jr. to plan fire drills. After these drills were executed, the members evaluated the performance of the student body and recommended ways to promote speed and ensure safety.

After school, members were on call at the fire station in their area. As well as assisting in extinguishing fires, they also took a course in first aid to enable them to administer aid to accident victims. Members also worked with the Rescue Squads in their area.

KHS Lettermen Boost Athletics; Monies Raised Buy Equipment

Composed of varsity letter winners, the Varsity Club's main objective was to aid the athletic department through various fund raising projects. Led by President Charlie Little, the lettermen sold cushions, megaphones, and tooth brushes. They also sold cokes after school and during basketball games. The proceeds from these projects were used to purchase trophies for outstanding athletes in every sports' field and to purchase a pitching machine for the baseball team.

Varsity Club members took on a new role when they acted as cheerleaders for the powder puff football game. Some of the less adventurous members coached the girls who participated in the game.

Three booths at the ICC Carnival kept members busy. They operated a BB shot booth, a sponge throw booth, and they sold soft drinks.

Under the leadership of President Dave Ferree, the Interact Club was involved in community and school service projects. Collecting Boy Scout uniforms for the Virginia School for the deaf and blind was one of the many ways in which the club members benefited the community.

Meetings were held every other Tuesday night in order to plan special activities and to have special speakers. Mr. Jordan, Rotary Club representative, spoke one evening on the purpose and function of the Rotary Club.

The Interact Club float entered in the football homecoming parade captured the second place trophy. Constructed of a metal frame covered with cloth and mounted on President Dave Ferree's Fiat, the float was a replica of an Indian head in its full dress regalia.

Each year the club has awarded a $100 scholarship to a graduating senior student to help defray his college expenses. This year's recipient was Claudia Hale.

To raise funds for the club treasury, the club members sponsored a pool table booth at the ICC Carnival.

Latin Club Earns Funds Selling Candy Apples at ICC Carnival

Jacobs, Stephanie Haynes, Kay Rimmer, Tom Hope, John Ulmschneider, Jerry Talton, Don Taylor.

New sponsor Miss Yetta Jacobs, aided by president Tom Hope, directed the members of the Latin Club in their efforts to gain a wider knowledge and understanding of the Latin culture. The Latin Club traveled to Bethel High School to hear a speaker on Roman rhetoric. Members also viewed the film Spartacus.

A Latin scrabble party provided an opportunity for club members to get acquainted. Displaying a Roman showcase for Language Week gave Kecoughtan students a chance to meet the Latin Club.

Funds for the club's treasury were earned through the sale of candy apples at the ICC Carnival.

Members of the Latin Club ended the year in true Roman fashion with a Roman banquet in the Home Ec room. Members dressed in togas were served traditional Roman dishes by slaves dressed in white tunics.

Fortune Booth Raises Monies for Scholars

Meetings of the French Club were held bimonthly with the purpose of helping members learn more about the French people and their culture. Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher, club sponsor, prepared special programs, including a report on Upper Volta, a former French colony, and a film on French chateaux for the club. Mrs. Charles Symrosky spoke to members on French holiday meals and demonstrated how to make "crepes."

Raising money for their scholarship fund was the French Club's major project. Several doughnut sales were held to raise the needed funds. The club also sponsored a fortune-telling booth in the ICC Carnival.

For Christmas the French Club held a party; each member was presented a gift, a booklet on French Christmas customs.

The year's activities were brought to an end with a picnic in June at Gosnold Hope Park.

Attentively, Donna Mansfield, Cynthia McMullen, and Debbie Reece listen to club picnic plans.

Spanish Club Adds to Student Exchange Fund

Led by sponsor Mrs. Nan Jordan, the Spanish Club enacted various money raising projects. Car washes and bake sales were held to raise needed funds. Contributing $10 to the SCA, the club helped to sponsor an exchange student from Puerto Rico. Members also planned to start a club tradition by adopting a child from a Spanish speaking country. Money was also saved so that next year's returning members could go on a Spanish cultural trip.

Spanish students with a 3.5 average in Spanish were inducted into the Spanish

Honor Society. Two induction ceremonies were held, the first in the fall and the second in the spring. Miss Alice Weldon, Honor Society sponsor, presented cultural programs at the club's bimonthly meetings. These programs included lectures and slides on various Spanish speaking countries.

In December the Spanish Club and the Honor Society held a joint Mexican banquet in the Home Ec room. The year's activities were brought to an end with another joint banquet in May at the Mexicali Restaurant.

German Club Presents Play

Earning money by car washes and doughnut sales, the German Club donated much of their funds to purchase new text books and to aid the German refugees.

Participating in ICC sponsored events, the club built a mock airplane for the Football Homecoming Parade. In cooperation with the Math Honor Society, they operated the Seven-Eleven Ball Toss during the ICC Carnival.

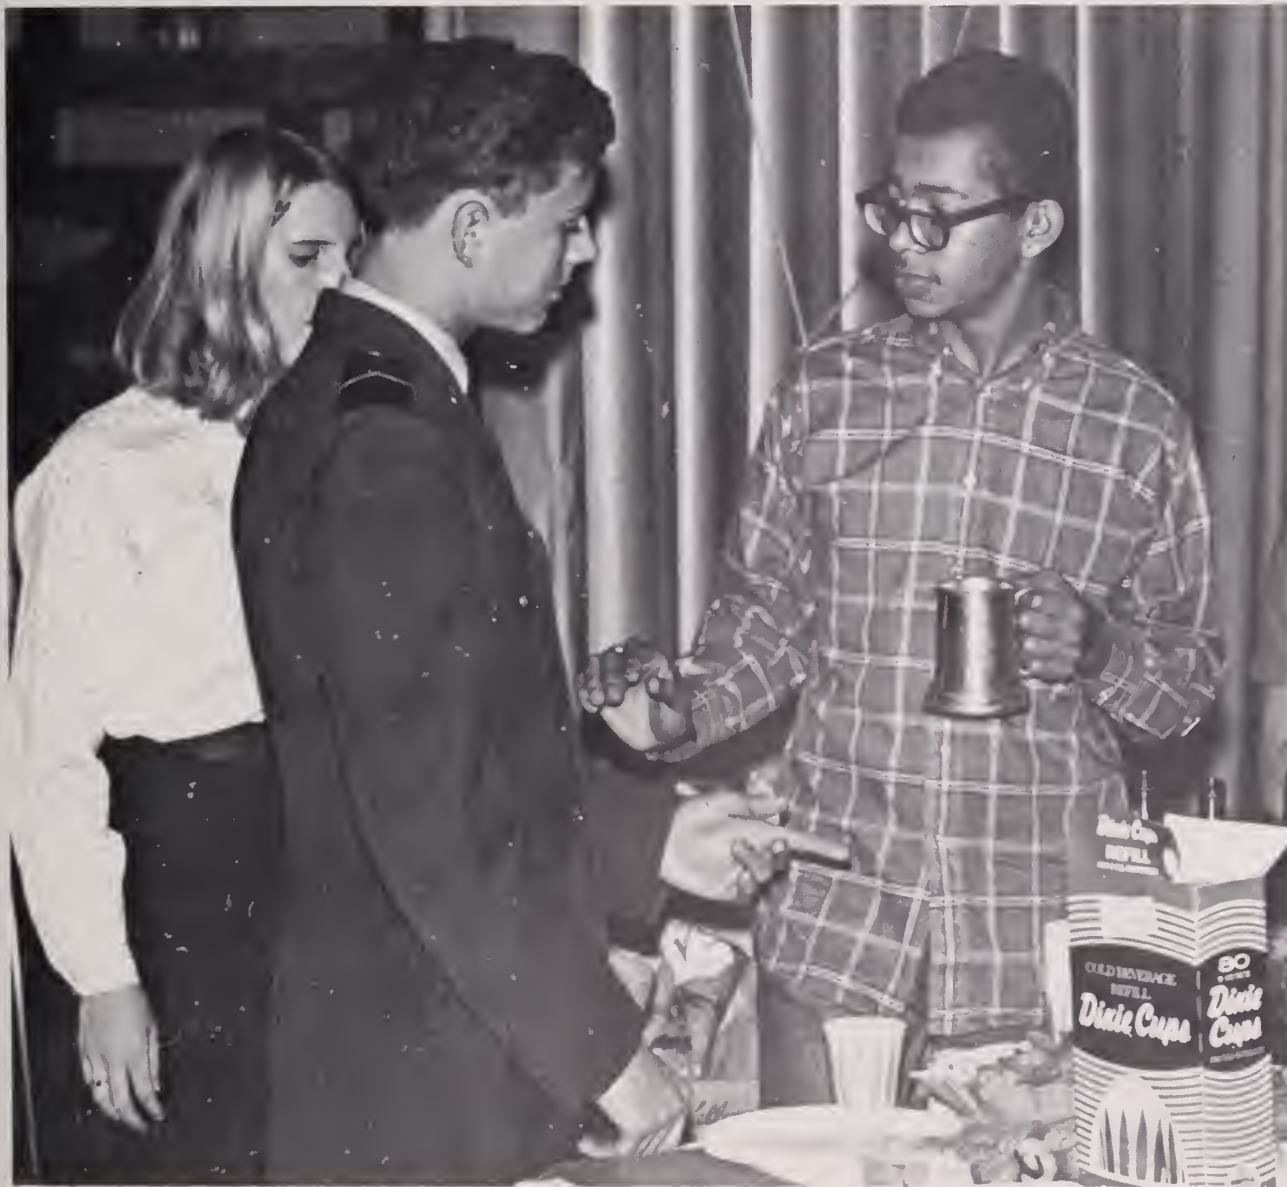

Other Hampton high schools were invited to the German Club's performance of "How the Grinch Stole Christmas."

To celebrate Foreign Language Week, members displayed souvenirs which included a genuine slot machine.

Members of Biological Society Study Advance Lab Techniques

Under the theme "Science in Action" the members of the Kecoughtan Biological Society investigated specialized areas of biology, such as, microbiology, biochemistry, plant taxonomy and histology. Sponsor Mrs. Donna McCall hoped to encourage and develop an appreciation for science through experimentations and field trips.

First semester was devoted to microbiological techniques. After making a gram stain of various types of bacteria, members learned to identify and separate the various types of bacteria from one another. A field trip to Mariner's Museum offered the opportunity to study the many collections of marine specimens available.

Dissecting rats initiated the second semester. After each phase of the dissecting technique, members made diagrams of each body system for later study. The Biological Society also participated in the ICC Carnival, sponsoring an "April Showers" Booth.

The spring months were spent pressing plants and making bioplastic mounts of these and other specimen. A trip to Norfolk's "Gardens by the Sea" ended the year.

Setting their aims for the year, the International Relations Club studied world problems and ways to alleviate them. Members heard guest speakers discuss problems they had observed in their foreign travels. During the club's bi-monthly meetings, study groups were established, and films of Biafra and Nigeria were viewed.

Club members participated in various projects aimed to help the children of underprivileged countries. During the week preceding Halloween, members collected money during their homeroom and lunch periods. Their Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF totaled $60. In December members sold Christmas cards and calendars. Proceeds added $180 to the UNICEF fund.

Not wanting to forget important dates, Wendy Smith notates them on calendar sold by International Relations Club.

Gaining a wider insight into the career of nursing was the prime objective of the Junior Red Cross Club. Various guests visited the club to speak on the importance of nursing. Mr. Ervin Hudgins, from the Buckroe Rescue Squad, spoke to club members on first aid procedures. Mrs. Liz Hunt, head of the volunteer services at Dixie Hospital, informed the club of projects clubs might adopt and of the various duties of candy strippers.

For Christmas the club made baskets and distributed them to elderly people in the community.

Appearing for the first time on Kecoughtan's club list was the Health Careers Club. Formerly the Future Nurses of America, it was revised to contain a wider area of activities and renamed the Health Careers Club by sponsor Mrs. Myra Hastings. Aided by President Marcia Estes, Mrs. Myra Hastings helped each member gain a greater insight into her various health career choices.

Acting primarily as a service club, the Health Careers Club extended its services to various organizations, nursing homes, and hospitals. For Christmas the members made cards for the men at the Veteran's Administration. Outside of community projects, the club participated in several fund raising activities in order to build their treasury. Car washes and bake sales were held. The club also participated in the ICC Carnival. The club's spring project was the raising of funds to sponsor a child at a summer camp.

Attentively, Marcia Estes watches as Mrs. Myra Hastings goes over the Health Careers Club's financial record.

FTA Sponsors Paper Contest

To promote class competition, the Kecoughtan Chapter of the Future Teachers of America sponsored a paper drive. All papers collected were given to the Sarah Bonwell Hudgins Center for retarded children to be used by students in their art classes.

In February the club held the annual FTA Spring District Rally in the KHS cafeteria. Members were responsible for making all arrangements for dinner and entertainment. Invitations were sent to members of all FTA Clubs in the district.

To build the club's treasury, members sold popcorn at the ICC Carnival. Proceeds added $20 to the club's funds.

In May club members traveled to Phillips Elementary School to observe elementary classes in session.

Helping measure stacks collected by classes, Sharon McIntyre calculates the winning class.

FHA Members Participate in Federation Activities

Striving as individuals to earn degrees of achievement, members of the Future Homemakers of America worked to earn Junior Degrees. Sponsors Mrs. Jean Frank and Miss Linda Howell planned club programs around the theme "Decisions that Count." Special projects on ceramics and cake decorating were part of club activities.

In the fall the Peninsula Federation sponsored a training session which officers attended and a picnic at Newport News Park for all club members. The Federation's Spring Banquet held at the Holiday Inn in April was also attended by many of the club members.

Selling cookbooks was the FHA's major money raising project for the year. They also participated in the ICC Carnival, operating the Country Store where bake goods, boutique items, remnants, and bric-brac could be purchased.

Money Raising Projects Keep FBLA Busy

Offering members an insight into the business world was the prime objective of the Kecoughtan Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America. Bake sales, doughnut sales, and the sale of round stationery were only a few of their business activities. The club also sold jack-o-lantern grams for Halloween, heart-o-grams for Valentine's Day, and egg-o-grams for Easter. Members were given an opportunity to learn about data processing when they visited Fort Monroe's Data Processing Center.

Accompanied by sponsor Mrs. Judith McPherson, two delegates, Sandy Walters, president, and Debbie Ramsey, vice-president, traveled to the annual FBLA State Convention held in Roanoke.

Members ended the year with a Mother-Daughter Banquet held at the Gourmet Inn.

DECA Club Wins Six Trophies

Fashions galore launched a new year for Kecoughtan's Distributive Education Club. J. J. Bowman, a local disc jockey, served as "command pilot," as students modeled fashions provided by Casey's and the Hampton Village Shop. Creating the evening mood, color space photos and space craft models were exhibited in the lobby. Mr. Fred Bell, from NASA, presented a special space program featuring the famous Apollo II moon walk. This fashion "Salute to NASA" won a second place award in DECA State competition.

Participating in the DECA State Convention held in Richmond, Kecoughtan's club entered six trophy winners. Marvin Pate, Sharon Herring, and Sylvia Spencer returned with first place trophies in public speaking, food industry, and home furnishing, respectively. Pam Williams and Marvin Pate won second place trophies in the fields of cosmetic specialty stores and banking and credit services.

The DE Club also sponsored a joint employer-employee banquet. Members were responsible for decorating the cafeteria in a "Harvest Time" theme, while members of the clubs of the other city schools prepared the dinner, invitations, and other portions of the program.

Woodshop Club Builds Lecterns

Members of the Woodshop Club came to the aid of many departments and organizations at Kecoughtan High School. One of the club's projects was constructing lecterns at a charge of fifteen dollars for any teacher who desired to purchase one. In order to give the students experience in mass production and associate them with business trends in industry today, members purchased the wood, built the stands and finished them. In addition, the heart for the Valentine's dance and the Marat/Sade set were constructed by club members.

Each student had definite duties to perform in the function of the club. Ray Williamson, the production manager, handled over-all planning of the project. Cliff Lewis designed and supervised the construction of the Marat/Sade set.

At the ICC Carnival the club sponsored a booth where participants had a certain number of strikes to drive a nail into a board. Prizes awarded for accomplishing this were wooden dice which were made and finished by Woodshop Club members.

Society Holds Annual Exhibit

To stimulate artistic activity within KHS, the Society of the Arts sponsored several art projects within the school and the community.

In October, members attended the James River Juried Art Show held at Mariner's Museum. The society also created an art display for the library showcase. Pictures illustrating different types of art were exhibited, thus helping Kecoughtan students to gain a better appreciation of art.

Climaxing the year's activities, the society sponsored the Second Annual Student Art Show for all local high school students at Willow Oaks Mall in May. Original works of the area students were on display and for sale at this day long event. Prizes were given for the best artistic endeavors in various categories.

Military Formal Highlights Year

Although held for two years, the NJROTC Military Ball was sponsored this year by the NJROTC Club. Held at the Langley Yacht Club on March 14, the formal dance was the highlight of the year. The naval theme prevailed in both decorations and refreshments. Blue and gold streamers decorated the ceiling and walls. The entrance consisted of a wheel, an anchor, and a mast with flags flying. Cakes baked in the shape of aircraft carriers were served along with punch and mints. The Third Estate was present to provide the music.

This was the first year the NJROTC Club had been in existence at Kecoughtan High School. Although it was formed late in the year, the club's main objective was to improve the program and benefit the company.

At the NJROTC Military Ball, Andrew Hagemann and Jan Williams prepare for the festivities.

Davis Executes Lighting Effects

Working with the drama department, the Audio Sonics Club produced exciting lighting effects for the fall production Marat/Sade. A backdrop of white lights emphasized the red and blue lights utilized during the production. Flashing red lights characterized the murder scene while blue lights symbolized the dreams of the inmates. Alternating red and blue lights depicted the mass riot scenes.

To accentuate the luminescent paint on the backdrop of Alice in Wonderland, Audio Sonics members used black or ultra-violet lighting. Special lighting was necessary to accent the luminescent grin of the Cheshire Cat as well as to sustain Alice's world of fantasy.

With money earned by serving as lighting technicians, Audio Sonics members purchased a new microphone.

Library Aides Serve Students

Cooperating with the Library Club, the library assistants helped to staff and maintain the library. When new books arrived, members aided in the processing so that the new arrivals could be made available to the student body. The processing of books included typing cards, pasting pockets on the back covers, and printing call numbers on the binding. During their free periods, students also stamped books, created bulletin boards, and straightened shelves.

Students Assist in KHS Office

Relinquishing their study hall, student assistants aided members of the administration and faculty. Even though the students were not paid, they devoted their time and energy to help the school staff.

In the main office student assistants could be found answering telephones, delivering messages, and typing materials for teachers and administrators. In the guidance office, assistants typed transcripts, issued hall passes, and filed student records. In their work for department heads, assistants typed booklists and kept department data.

Library Club Sponsors Tea To Thank Staff

To show their appreciation of the KHS faculty, the Library and Audio Visual Club gave a tea during National Library Week. Refreshments included homemade cookies, mints, punch, and cake.

Displaying books approved on the state book list for libraries to give librarians a preview, the Library Club sponsored a Spring Book Exhibit at C. Vernon Spratley Junior High School.

Two booths, where participants threw bean bags into a cat's mouth and fished in a pond, were sponsored by the Library Club at the ICC Carnival. Stuffed animals were given as prizes when contestants were successful in throwing the bean bag into the cat's mouth, but everyone was a winner who took a chance at the fish pond.

At the beginning of the year, Chess Club members had to be victorious in a tournament in order to secure a position on the team. The club sponsored the chess team in the district chess league.

In the five games against Warwick High School, the team was victorious. With a score of 3-2, the chess team defeated Pembroke. The team lost 5-0 to Denbigh and 3-2 to Hampton. When Hampton Roads Academy forfeited the match, the Kecoughtan chess team automatically received a score of 5-0. Individual techniques were perfected during the course of the year with the help of the team's adviser, Mr. John Kaiser.

To raise funds for Pep Club projects, members sponsored the first powderpuff football game. During the halftime ceremonies Charlie Little was crowned queen. Sophomore girls emerged victors defeating the juniors and seniors 14-7.

Pep Club members decorated the cafeteria and served as hostesses at the Fall, Winter, and Spring sports' banquets in honor of all sports' participants.

New Spirit Chants Spark KHS

"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y" cried the cheerleaders as they rallied the student body in support of the teams. To spark spirit, new cheers and chants were created.

The varsity squad attended a pre-school workshop at Camp Farrar in Virginia Beach to learn new techniques and cheers.

To raise money for new basketball uniforms, varsity cheerleaders sold doughnuts on Saturday mornings.

Tryouts for the '70-'71 varsity squad were held in April. The judges, members of the KHS faculty, looked for quality in appearance, coordination, voice, and pep.

Headed by Linda Rowe, the junior varsity cheerleaders worked during the first months of school to learn routines and techniques. In addition to cheering at junior varsity games, the JV's rallied the stands in support of varsity football and basketball.

United Efforts and Team Spirit Result in Common Goals

The light of the stadium, the roaring sound of a crowd, and the driving force of a hopeful win became the life of Kecoughtan High School's athletes this year. However, not all was glory for each member of every team. Practicing many long hours and sacrificing other activities, the players represented the school by putting forth their best possible effort. Athletes could always be found at school on Saturday mornings and late each afternoon trying to perfect a lay-up shot in basketball or a backhand in tennis. In participating in any team sport, the members realized the necessity of merging the individual to become part of a successful team which combined single efforts for the common goal.

Backed by only five returning lettermen, the KHS football team battled through their 1969 season. Despite the proddings of head coach Ben Rich and his staff, the Warriors were able to produce only two victories in ten outings.

Following a slow start against the Den-high Patriots, the Warriors demonstrated great improvement in oncoming clashes. The Jay Bees of James Blair discovered the going tough in establishing their 14-6 victory, while heavily favored Carver could score only 22 points.

Casting their first victory, the team, edging Ferguson 20-18, presented the game ball to an injured Mr. Dyche.

Kecoughtan's second victory came in the final game of the season. Bounding back from a 7-0 half-time deficit, the Warriors clinched the game with a 12-7 homecoming victory over the York Falcons. Sharing leadership responsibilities were senior team captains, Charlie Tyler and Jeff Grimm.

At the Fall Sports Banquet, Neil Smith was voted Most Valuable Player, and Skip Grimm earned Savage of the Year. Jeff Burkhardt earned the title of Most Improved and Best Lineman, and Best Back went to senior Charlie Tyler. Exhibiting the Best Sportsmanship was Charlie Little.

Spearheaded under the coaching of John Kolley, the KHS Junior varsity football team ended their season with a 3-4 record. The mighty Warriors earned their first win of the season with a 12-6 victory over the Farmers of Warwick High School. One of the turning points in the season came when the Kecoughtan Warriors were edged by district rivals, the Hampton High School Crabbers, 12-6. Rallying together after this defeat, the Warriors rolled on to cast victories over the Carver Trojans by a score of 20-6, while defeating the Falcons of York 14-8.

Sharing leadership responsibilities were team captains Tom Hart, Wilbert Jones and Keith Midgette. At the Fall Sports Banquet, Tom Hart was awarded Best Back and John Yarbrough received Best Lineman. Most Valuable Player honors were shared by Jack Stoecker and Tolbert Munn.

Cross Country Compiles Enviably 6-0-1 Record

Participating in district, regional, state and invitational meets highlighted Kecoughtan High School's 1969 Cross Country season. At the Virginia High School League's district and regional meets, the Warriors finished fifth and third respectively. Proving themselves worthy of an invitation, the Warriors finished first out of twenty-six schools in the Portsmouth Jaycees Meet. The climax of the season came at the State A.A.U. Meet. The Warriors received second place honors following State Champion Douglas Freeman High School.

Under the direction of Coach Herman Daniels, the Harriers compiled a 6-0-1 record. Leadership duties were shared by Ron Kirk, Jim Steinberger and Mike Davis. Finishing on top consistently were Mac Collins and junior Mike Davis.

Burkhart Goes Undefeated in Wrestling Year

Compiling a 1-8 regular season record, Kecoughtan's Wrestling Team, under the direction of Coach William Cawley, battled through another rebuilding season. Captain Jeff Burkhart led the team and the district with an overall 12-0 record. Thomas Bembry placed third in the district in his division. Other standouts were juniors Neil Smith and Dwight Thomas. The only victory of the season came when Kecoughtan trounced the Trojans of Carver by a score of 15-45.

Putting and driving their way past all district rivals, Kecoughtan's Golf team finished 8-1 in regular season play. Highlighting the year, the Warriors captured the Peninsula District title with the lowest score of 320. The KHS Golf team placed second in the Regional Golf Tournament held at Newport News Municipal Course. The next week the Warriors traveled to Fairfax, where they placed fourth in the State Tournament.

Assisting Coach Thompson was team captain Dana Gwynn. Gwynn captured team scoring honors with a low average of 76. Second on the scoring ladder was sophomore Mike McCabe, while junior Robin Rubrecht finished third. Fourth, fifth and sixth place team scorers were Bobby Wills, Jack Madison and Monroe Rateau.

Finishing the season with a 5-5 record, the Warrior swimming team ranked third in district and regional competition. Aiding Coach Leroy Thompson with leadership responsibilities was team captain David Ferree. Top scorer for this year's team was senior Scott Henderson. Compiling 142 points, Henderson had the third highest season total for any Kecoughtan swimmer. Being one of four to clear 100 points in KHS swimming history, Dave Ferree finished the season with 102 points.

Two individual records were set in the 50 and 100 meters freestyle by Scott Henderson. Herb Barnhart also excelled in diving and the 50 meter freestyle.

Pulling together at the end of the season, the Kecoughtan High School basketball team rallied to win four out of the last five basketball contests. During this four game surge, the team gained victories over York, Pembroke, Blair and Bethel. After defeating Pembroke 72-70, the Warriors edged Bethel 42-41. These victories assured the team a berth in the District Tournament and a tie for fourth place in regular season competition.

Under the direction of Coach Jim Hathaway and assistant Coach Dave Nelson, the team remained in the upper brackets in league standings.

Player leadership responsibilities were handled by team captain Charles Tyler. Tyler set a school and district record by averaging nineteen rebounds per game. He also captured highest rebounds per game honors by pulling in thirty. Leading the team in the back court were seniors Charles Little and Floyd Lee. Lee established school records for the most steals and assists. Ending the season on a controversial call while playing Carver, Kecoughtan compiled a 7-11 season record.

Poised on the mound, Bud Jones awaits the catcher's signal.

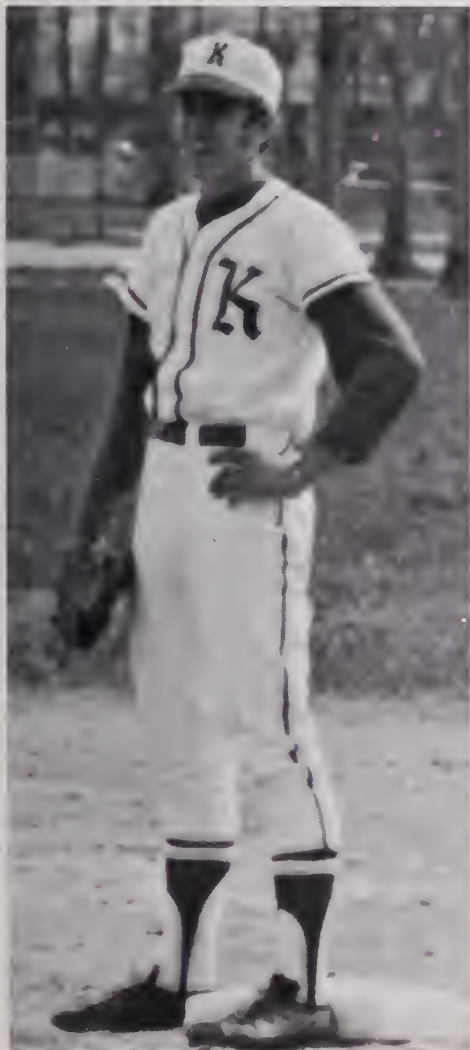

Posting a 6-3 win over the champion Bethel Bruins, the Warrior baseball team finished sixth in district action. The inexperienced team's overall record for the season was 6-10.

Helping Coach Buddy Denton and Assistant Coach Henry Roper was senior team captain Charlie Little. Little was the team's ace relief pitcher.

Other pitching standouts were Sam Johnson, Bud Jones, and Chuck Wingfield. Jones struck out fourteen batters to aid the team's victory over Bethel.

Junior Chuck Wingfield led the team's hitting, followed by junior Bill Tinsley, who saw action behind the plate as catcher. Veteran second baseman V. O. Keen and sophomore Ricky Price also aided the team in the hitting department.

Coach Denton cited inexperience as the team's biggest problem during the 1970 season. The entire infield with the exception of Keen will be returning next year, giving experience to Coach Denton's starting line-up.

Participating in all fields of athletics, Kecoughtan's Girls' Recreational Association terminated the year with three successful seasons. The GRA's field hockey team, which tied for first place, had a 2-1 record. Sharp shooters Verbena Askew and Angela Reeves led the Warrior basketball team through a 2-0-1 season. Proving themselves outstanding softball players, Nancy Salomone and Terry McNamara helped the team in clinching key district softball games. The girls' tennis team, which was rained out of several matches, was led by sophomore tennis ace Nancy Madison. Even though the volleyball team was aided by outstanding player Bobbie Harrod, it finished winless in three outings.

President Nan Hudson assisted sponsor, Miss Martha Huffman. Further help was given by officers: Donna Epps, vice-president; Janie Mack, secretary; Acquannetta Frazier, treasurer; LaVon Williams, recorder; and Emma Zeigler, ICC representative.

Class Spirit Builds Unity and Understanding

Following the footsteps left by others, the three classes of Kecoughtan began the year determined to add new tracks. All classes strove to make their class unique and to be remembered by those who come after.

Selling everything from light bulbs to Christmas candles, each class planned and worked for months in advance for such special projects as the Junior Ring Dance, Senior Prom and Sophomore Co-Rec-Night. The three years a class spent together were full of planning, work and often panic. When it seemed as if time were running out and a project would never be completed, class members came through to get the job done. A spirit developed from each class which united to become the spirit of Kecoughtan High.

John Holdren Elected Sophomore President

"Wow, look at the size of this auditorium! . . . Is this 'F' corridor? . . . Have you seen that good-looking biology teacher? . . . When are JV cheerleading try-outs? . . . This school doesn't look as big from the outside . . . You're lost too, huh? . . ."

These and similar comments were typical of those that may have been overheard by any bystander when more than six hundred bewildered sophomores spent their first day at Kecoughtan last August.

Sophomores began a busy year with the election of officers in October. The Sophomore Executive Board, consisting of a representative from each sophomore homeroom, worked closely with the officers in coordinating the year's activities.

Profits from a car wash in the fall and class pin sales in the spring provided the necessary funds for the sophomores' big project of the year, Sophomore Fun Night. Lisa Williams served as chairman of the April event, which featured a basketball game between Kecoughtan faculty and the faculties of local junior high schools, followed by a dance.

At an October assembly, John Holdren presents his platform as a candidate for sophomore class president.

Preparing for Sophomore Fun Night, Doug Kirk clears the cafeteria of extra chairs and tables

Ralph Richerson Leads Class

In the beginning there was mumbling and doubt, but this rapidly changed to a deafening roar. "'71 Rules" echoed through the gym. Ralph Richerson, Junior Class president, had stepped forward to accept "Ye Olde Spirit Jug." The juniors had stolen the jug from the undefeated seniors for the first time.

Throughout the year, the Class of '71 continued to show their class and school spirit. Juniors collected a record breaking number of boxes for the annual KHS Hampton football game bonfire to earn first place in class competition.

In addition to selling light bulbs to raise money for their spring events, committees were formed for the annual Talent Show and Junior Ring Dance. Mike Williams supervised the production of the 1970 Talent Show, whose proceeds went towards financing the Ring Dance.

Brigadoon, with its dream world and Scottish countryside, set the mood for the major event of the juniors' year, the 1970 Ring Dance. Juniors celebrated the long awaited arrival of their class rings April 17.

Mr. Motley, Balfour representative, helps an anxiously waiting Marlene Staub try on a class ring.

Class of '71 Becomes Aware of the SAT Tests

While envious David Talton and Betsy Flowers look on, Jim Bell joyfully passes his term paper to Marc Scheumann.

Class of '70 Anticipates Final Year at KHS;

Eagerly anticipating their final year together, the Class of '70 assumed their roles as school leaders. "'70 Rules!' was the cry as the seniors dominated "Ye Olde Spirit Jug" throughout the year.

Securing first place for the second successive year, the senior class football homecoming float proclaimed "Proud of the Past, Confident of the Future." Queen Cathy Hastings and senior attendants Shelia Brown and Linda Madsen represented the senior class.

Winter brought college boards, college applications, and mid-term exams. Brightening the month of January was the senior class' Miss KHS Pageant and Miss KHS, senior Susan Tyrrell.

The Crucible, the senior class play, highlighted the month of February. Basketball homecoming soon followed and the seniors were represented by Queen Barbara Swanson and attendant Lynn Gibson.

Dancing at the Senior Prom, seniors enjoyed the evening as their last social event together. June found the seniors, with sponsors Mrs. Sue Weilmuenster and Mrs. Norma Seals, reminiscing about the highlights of their past years together at Class Night.

June 14 marked a milestone in the lives of the members to the Class of '70 who, robed in green and white, received their diplomas, turned their rings and tassels, and looked to the future as Kewanee graduates.

Carefully measuring the needed amount of tape, senior Cindy Jackson waits as senior Steve Bruger adjusts the crepe paper for the tunnel exit at the Senior Prom held in May.

Foster, Yolanda Jones, Gloria McAdams. Third Row: Dee Sorrell, Sharon Otero, Ingrid Stilson, Adrienne Noel, Cindy Jackson, Peggy Dixon. Fourth Row:

Stephanie Haynes, Dave Ferree, Tom Hope, Reginald Bassette, Jim Boone, George Riesbeck, Tony Young, Ann Bartley.

Class Leaders Strive for Unity, Involvement

As the arrival of caps and gowns reminds him of the nearness of June and graduation, senior Rick Jones pauses to ponder his plans for the future.

Senior Class Officers: Charlie Williams, chaplain; Debbie Stewart, president; Claudia Hale, vice-president; Linda Madsen, secretary; Barbara Easter, treasurer

Faculty Recognizes Outstanding Seniors

Vicki Blevins

Jeff Grimm

Debbie Stewart

Guy Davis

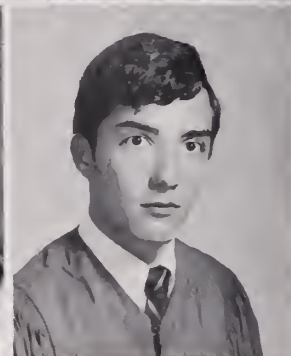

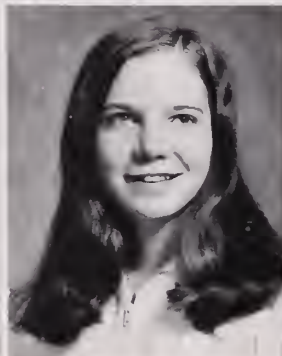

Barbara Easter

Bill Porch

Claudia Hale

Jerry Talton

Intense school spirit, a devotion to and for all Warrior activities have characterized Vicki Blevins three years at Kecoughtan. Her service to her class and school in several areas and her sincere desire to contribute have earned for Vicki faculty recognition as an outstanding member of the Class of 1970. Always performing with pep and enthusiasm, Vicki was outstanding as a majorette for three years. As Sophomore Class President Vicki helped mold the Class of '70 into a cohesive unit. Her sweetness and charm won for her the support of classmates and faculty alike. Extending her interest to the entire school, Vicki served as SCA treasurer as a junior and SCA secretary as a senior. She was also an active member of Keyettes, Warrior Tom Tom staff, and Girls' Chorus. Perhaps most outstanding was her co-editorship of Tribal Tales. Her proficiency in journalism and her outstanding leadership of the newspaper staff earned for her the position of secretary-treasurer of Quill and Scroll. Vicki also attended the Virginia High School Editors' Workshop at Virginia Commonwealth University and Southern Inter-scholastic Press Association Workshop at Washington and Lee. Vicki's love for her school, her friendliness and cooperative spirit have merited the gratitude of the faculty and the class.

Outstanding citizenship, sportsmanship, and service to his class have earned faculty recognition as an outstanding member of the Class of 1970 for Jeff Grimm, athlete and all-around student.

Jeff's participation in athletics as a three year letterman on the Varsity Football team and two year letterman on the Varsity Baseball Team has represented the high ideals of competitive sports and young manhood. Winner of the "Best Sophomore on the Varsity" Award, Jeff quarterbacked the Warriors to an impressive 7-2-1 season his first year at Kecoughtan. As a junior, Jeff was the recipient of "The Most Valuable Back" Trophy and the Varsity Scholastic Award. Co-captain of the 1969-70 football team, Jeff also received the DAR Good Citizenship Medal and a National Varsity Club Award for Scholarship. A keen desire to serve his class was realized by serving as vice president of the Sophomore Class and president of the Junior Class. A three year member of the Key Club and Varsity Club, Jeff was Key Club secretary and vice president of the Varsity Club his senior year. Representing Kecoughtan at American Legion Boys' State, Jeff was chosen to be a member of the Honor Guard. Jeff's other activities included SCA Executive Board, Vol-teens, and National Spanish Honor Society. An honor graduate and voted "Most Popular" by his classmates, the qualities of leadership, citizenship, and sportsmanship demonstrated throughout his three years at Kecoughtan have earned for Jeff the praise of the faculty and his peers.

Service to her class and outstanding work in the area of publications have merited recognition for Senior Class President Debbie Stewart as an outstanding graduate of the Class of 1970. Debbie, a friendly and extremely capable young lady, consistently proved her devotion to her class, working on committees and projects as a sophomore and serving as Junior Class Homecoming Float co-chairman, Ring Dance Decorations committee chairman, and a member of the Junior Class Executive Committee. Heading the Class of 1970 as president, Debbie was selected by her classmates to receive the Elizabeth Cook "Outstanding Senior Award" at graduation. A member of the Tomahawk staff as a junior, Debbie's outstanding work on that publication earned for her membership in Quill and Scroll and editorship of the 1970 yearbook. Versatile and enthusiastic in all of her endeavors, Debbie was a 1969 delegate to American Legion Girls' State and served in the House of Delegates in that assembly. She was also an active member of Keyettes and a three year member of the A Cappella Choir. Voted "Most Likely to Succeed" in the Hall of Fame, Debbie, an honor graduate, has truly exemplified the ideals of young womanhood in her many activities at Kecoughtan and has earned the respect and admiration of her classmates and the faculty.

Unselfishly giving of his time and energies in many areas at Kecoughtan, Guy Davis, National Merit Finalist, is recognized by the faculty as an outstanding graduate of the Class of 1970. Guy's superior scholarship, ranking him among the top ten graduates academically, earned for him membership in National Honor Society, Math Honor Society, and Quill and Scroll. Voted "Most Intellectual" by his classmates, Guy is also listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students. As a member of the Audio-Sonics Club for three years and president his senior year, Guy prepared the sound and lighting system for such activities as the Miss KHS Pageant, Lions' Variety Shows, Faculty Frolics, one act plays, drama productions, band and choral concerts, pep rallies, and assemblies. Quiet and retiring, Guy did his job without complaint, always cooperating with faculty and students alike. As a sophomore Guy participated in the Tidewater Science Congress. He has also been active in the ICC, serving as Carnival committee chairman and Best Club of the Year Award Committee chairman his senior year. In addition, Guy did a superior job as Faculty Section Head for the 1970 Tomahawk. As a senior, Guy was a recipient of the Bow and Arrow Award, an honor rarely bestowed upon a student. His dedicated service to his school, his willingness to serve, and his unassuming demeanor have won for Guy the respect of the faculty and his peers.

Artist, journalist and enthusiastic Warrior, Barbara Easter has earned faculty recognition as an outstanding graduate of the Class of 1970 for outstanding contributions to her school. Throughout her three years at Kecoughtan, Barbara has entered wholeheartedly into a variety of activities. Her keen interest in her school was evident as a sophomore when she participated in the fall play, SCA Publicity Committee, Pep Club, and Girls' Recreation Association. The winner of the Presidential Award for Physical Fitness, Barbara also received the GRA Service Award. As a junior, this capable, talented young lady won first place in Tempora Division at the York Art Show and an Honorable Mention in Pen and Ink. A delegate to Virginia Girls' State as a junior, Barbara served as Commonwealth Attorney. Holding office in both the Pep Club and GRA, Barbara was on the Ring Dance Decorations Committee and a delegate to the National Conference of Christians and Jews. She was also a participant on the Hampton Council on Human Relations. Her outstanding ability in journalism led to membership in Quill and Scroll and attendance at Southern Interscholastic Press Association Conference and Virginia High School Editors' Workshop. Co-editor of Tribal Tales, Barbara has been outstanding in her leadership of the newspaper staff. Recipient of the Kecoughtan Outstanding Teenager Award, Barbara placed second in the Elks' Leadership Contest. She served as Pep Club president, president of Quill and Scroll, and Senior Class treasurer her final year at Kecoughtan. For her many talents, her friendly, outgoing personality, and her contribution to her school in many areas, the faculty has commended her.

Service to his school through the Student Cooperative Association, musical talent, and participation in many Kecoughtan activities have made Bill Porch, SCA president, deserving of faculty recognition as an outstanding graduate of the Class of 1970. Bill's musical talent was obvious from the sophomore year as his three year membership in A Cappella Choir demonstrates. As a junior Bill had a lead in the fall play, West Side Story, and was chairman of the Junior Class Talent Show. During his senior year Bill performed in The Crucible, the Senior Class play, and Once Upon a Mattress, the spring musical. He was also a third place winner in the Junior Class Talent Show. His leadership of the SCA was commendable, and he devoted much of his time and energies to organizing a Human Relations Forum, the Student Relations Committee, and an honor system for Kecoughtan students. Bill's other activities included membership in the Key Club, Pep Club, Warrior Tom Tom staff, and Quill and Scroll. An honor graduate, Bill was voted "Best All-Around" by his class and was one of seven delegates to Boys' State his junior year. A desire to serve, outstanding school spirit, and a pleasant, outgoing personality have characterized Bill during his three years at Kecoughtan and have earned for him recognition by the faculty and his fellow students.

During her three years at Kecoughtan, distinguished graduate and recipient of the Balfour Key, Claudia Hale has demonstrated outstanding capability and leadership. Her membership in many school organizations, superior scholarship, and dedicated service to her class have earned for Claudia recognition by the faculty as an outstanding member of the Class of 1970. A National Merit of Commendation winner, Claudia was voted by her class "Most Intellectual" as her class rank of seventh would indicate. She was a member of four honorary societies, having served as vice president of the National Spanish Honor Society, treasurer of the National Honor Society, and a member of the Math Honor Society and Quill and Scroll. A poised, confident, courteous young lady, Claudia has served her class consistently. She was a member of both the junior and senior class executive boards and is vice president of the Class of 1970. Claudia also participated in Keyettes, Pep Club, Girls' Chorus, the Tomahawk staff, Spanish Club and the Student Cooperative Association. Her devotion to all the activities of the class since her sophomore year and her charm and leadership qualities have been outstanding in all areas. Claudia was named as Kecoughtan's nominee for an outstanding senior girl in the First District in Virginia. The faculty has commended Claudia for her many contributions to her class and school.

Involved in the field of forensics, Jerry Talton has brought numerous honors to Kecoughtan and has demonstrated qualities of leadership that have earned for him recognition by the faculty as an outstanding graduate of the Class of 1970. The American Legion Oratorical Contest Winner in school, city, district, and zone, Jerry placed third in the state and a copy of his speech was entered in the Congressional Record by the Honorable Thomas Downing. As a junior, Jerry placed second in the district for public speaking. His interest in speech qualified him for Warrior Tom Tom and earned for him membership in Quill and Scroll. Listed in Merit's Who's Who Among American High School Students, Jerry was commended for National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test scores and his excellent academic record made possible membership in National Honor Society and Math Honor Society. Though concentrating on scholastic activities, Jerry's versatility extended into other areas. He served as a team manager for basketball and tennis and earned letters in these sports. A member of the Varsity Club, vice-president of the Latin Club, a Key Clubber, Speech Club member, and SCA representative, Jerry demonstrated outstanding leadership and interest in his school his entire three years. Jerry served as a messenger in the 1970 session of the Virginia General Assembly House of Delegates and again brought honor to his school. The faculty has commended Jerry for his service to the school, his exemplary character, and his academic excellence.

Teachers Devote Their Time and Effort to Generate a Successful School Year

Asking questions and seeking knowledge, students turned to faculty members for answers. Out of class, teachers spent many hours preparing lesson plans to challenge their students. In order to make their subject more interesting, teachers often deviated from their regular procedures with the use of films, skits, and field trips.

To provide more than just a classroom education, many faculty members sponsored clubs, organizations, and classes. These sponsors spent much extra time after school and on Saturdays meeting with clubs, rehearsing drama and music groups, decorating for dances, and working with school publications. Through their untiring efforts faculty members not only provided an education for students but also made it possible for students to participate in extra-curricular activities.

Free Bussing Poses Problem for School Board

Demands for salary increases for teachers, city school buses for junior and senior high school students, and construction of new schools were issues affecting the majority of Hampton families. Those in charge of these decisions comprised the Hampton School Board.

Headed by Mr. Harrol A. Brauer, Jr., the Board acted on demands of the Hampton Educational Association, the Professional organization composed of members of the school system. Demands included pay raises in their proposed budget for the next fiscal year.

Board members also listened to Kecoughtan students. Bill Porch, Claudia Hale, and Dale Danielian discussed such issues as graduation of the Senior Class in the new Hampton Roads Coliseum.

For the second year, parents confronted the School Board with the demand for free transportation for students of the city's junior and senior high schools. This year the Board voted to study ways to replace the privately owned buses now in use.

Mr. Dyche Selected School Employee of the Year

Reading about the National Honor Society, Mr. Dyche prepares his remarks for the KHS installation.

Kecoughtan students and faculty were not the only ones to recognize the devotion and ability of their new principal Mr. Harry B. Dyche, Jr. He was named School Employee of the Year at the 1969 Hampton City Fair.

Always school spirited, even when he was hospitalized with a fractured ankle, Mr. Dyche made arrangements for an ambulance to bring him to Darling Stadium. After he helped to cheer our football team to victory, the team demonstrated their appreciation by presenting him with the game ball.

Eager to find new ways to stimulate learning, he arranged and approved different classroom procedures. These included guest speakers, field trips, demonstrations, and special assemblies.

Always willing to listen to students or faculty members, Mr. Dyche was often able to help solve their numerous problems. As a result, conflicting organizations at Kecoughtan often requested his aid as an impartial mediator of their problems.

Helping to "stamp out uglies," Mr. Harry Dyche sweeps part of Kecoughtan's student parking lot.

Stopping in front of the Student Store, Mr. Dyche comments on his recent accident to Randy Wilson.

Assistant Principals Keep Order, Find Substitutes

Mr. R. Fletcher Gray

Mr. Walter T. Jones

Mrs. Shirley S. Booth

Mr. Fletcher Gray unpacks school board forms to be completed by the Kecoughtan faculty.

Always lending a helping hand, Kecoughtan's administrators were well known to students. If not performing their given duties, they were often found advising students.

Responsible for maintaining order throughout the school, the assistant principal Mr. Fletcher Gray was often seen patrolling the cafeteria and evaluating teachers. In addition to these duties, he often became acting principal for the absent Mr. Dyche.

Arriving early every morning, assistant principal Mr. Walter Jones had to locate substitutes for absent teachers. Seldom having a free moment, Mr. Jones also arranged time, facilities, police, and custodians for the numerous activities at Kecoughtan.

During school hours Dean of Girls Mrs. Shirley Booth coordinated the many student aides and sent assignments to home-bound students. Before school, however, she could be found issuing the yellow, pink, and green absentee slips for girls.

After listening to Bonnie Tschirhart explain her problem, Mrs. Shirley Booth, Dean of Girls, uses her experience to help her to find a solution.

Processing Kathy O'Brien's withdrawal papers to transfer to another school. Mrs. Beatrice Grimmer, Kecoughtan's registrar, refunds her locker fee.

KHS Office Staff Meets Visitors, Manages Funds

"Good Morning, Kecoughtan High School. May I help you?" Visitors to KHS were first greeted by Mrs. Betsy Storey, the school's receptionist and secretary. If not answering the telephone or greeting visitors, Mrs. Storey could be seen processing mail, making out the payroll, or requisitioning materials for the School Board.

Joining the Kecoughtan staff this year, Mrs. Beatrice Grimmer, secretary to the principal, found herself busy with office appointments, the absentee list, Hampton's IBM computer, and federal forms. In addition to acting as the school registrar as which she received all grades before releasing the report cards to teachers and students, she was in charge of Kecoughtan's keys, teacher records and files, and orders for much of the school's supplies.

As manager of the Student Store, Mrs. Mildred Insley stocked, inventoried, and sold needed materials to KHS students. In addition to the usual school supplies such as pens, pencils, and paper, these items also included such special articles as Warrior decals, Kecoughtan mugs, KHS pennants, and tickets to the many school events. Also, as bookkeeper she collected and disbursed all school monies, handled the funds of organization, and filed financial reports. In spite of all these duties, however, she could always find time to mimeograph tests and other needed educational materials for teachers.

Operating the duplicating machine. Mrs. Mildred Insley mimeographs a teacher's test.

Guidance Helps Students Get Scholarships, Jobs

Making information available to the students was the goal of the enlarged KHS Guidance Department. The counselors, headed by Mrs. Jane Price, aided students in such areas as colleges, scholarships, courses, and jobs.

In addition to mailing transcripts to colleges, Kecoughtan's senior counselors, Mrs. Nell Mann and Mrs. Minnie Bemby, sent bulletins to seniors to relay news about colleges and scholarships. They also computed class rank.

Mr. Arnold Ritt aided juniors whenever they had a problem. He also arranged for a series of afternoons to acquaint parents of juniors with information concerning colleges. Mrs. Evelyn Moore helped the new Warriors to adjust to their new school, to secure jobs, and ease scheduling difficulties.

Filing reams of paper and scheduling students for requested appointments kept Mrs. Gladys Hardrath busy. In addition, she made copies of students' records to send colleges and employers.

Nick Galla discusses his plans for the future with the junior guidance counselor, Mr. Arnold Ritt.

Ordering new books, cataloging them after they arrived, and placing them on the shelves for Kecoughtan students to borrow occupied the year for the librarian Miss Nancy Spain. She also helped students locate the necessary reference sources for their assignments.

Mrs. Jacqueline Carter, assistant librarian, was constantly locating and distributing to teachers the requested projectors, record players, televisions, tape recorders and other audio-visual equipment. Keeping an atmosphere conducive to quiet study also required the many skills of Mrs. Carter.

During the day Mrs. Mary Johnson, library secretary, helped fill out the many required forms of the school library. Frequently she found herself helping a student find publications that were necessary for research projects.

To help the sophomores become acquainted with their new school library, the KHS librarians held special classes for sophomores at the beginning of the year. As part of their English class, they learned about the Dewey Decimal System.

Cataloging newly arrived books, Miss Nancy Spain prepares them for use by KHS students and faculty.

Cafeteria Staff Serves Nationwide Lunch for KHS

Headed by Mrs. Ruby Wilkerson, the cafeteria staff cooperated with the SCA in planning special menus. For National School Lunch Week, the Kecoughtan facility prepared a nationwide lunch consisting of a hamburger on bun, green beans, apple sauce, and milk.

Initiated this year, an express lane was operated in the cafeteria to provide the students and faculty with a selection of two or three different hot lunches. Other students, not desiring a hot plate lunch, were able to buy a bag lunch or dessert in one of the two sandwich lines.

Custodians Perform Necessary Services for KHS

Performing one of her many daily duties, Mrs. Viola Wilson cleans the sinks in the girls' restroom.

Available whenever needed, the janitorial staff, headed by Mr. Melvin Smith, performed the necessary service of maintaining the school. The first shift with whom Kecoughtan's student body was more familiar, could usually be found sweeping the many corridors, replacing fluorescent tubes, or moving heavy and bulky equipment or supplies to wherever they were needed. Later, after most students had gone home, the night shift readied the school for use during the next day by cleaning the many blackboards emptying the numerous trash cans, and sweeping the endless floors.

Kecoughtan's maids also provided many needed services to the school and students. Cleaning the windows in a supposedly windowless school and operating a laundry center which provided clean towels and fresh uniforms for the athletic department kept them busy throughout the day.

Sports, Driver

Programs for physical fitness dominated the Athletic Department headed by Mr. William E. Greene. Daily exercise and participation in a variety of sports composed the activity of the Kecoughtan gym classes.

Boys developed strength and skill in touch football, basketball, wrestling, volleyball, and softball. Juniors and seniors who took another year of PE participated in tennis, apparatus and gymnastics, and speedball.

Emphasizing skills in such sports as soccer, volleyball, and softball, the sophomore curriculum stressed participation in team sports. Upperclassmen participated in individual and dual sports such as golf, bowling, and badminton.

For sophomores, the Athletic Department offered such classroom courses as driver training during the first semester and physiology, anatomy, and first aid during the second semester. Students who wished to receive their drivers' licenses before becoming 18 years old were required to take behind-the-wheel driver training before and after school.

Battling for possession of the ball, students in Coach Roger Watson's fifth period sophomore gym class participate in a contested basketball game.

by Classwork, Drill Instruction, and Field Trips

Appreciation of the Navy as a vital part of the national defense and as an interesting and rewarding career was the mission of the Naval Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps. This course, established by the Secretary of the Navy in accordance with an Act of Congress, offered male students instruction in naval history, seamanship, navigation, meteorology, and oceanography.

Cadets developed respect for authority, a keen sense of patriotism, self-reliance, and leadership under the guidance of Commander Stronski and Chief Warrant Officer Gripp. In addition to classroom instruction and character building, the 110 cadets were given close order drill and survival training.

Trips to nearby installations provided the cadets with an overall view of the working Navy. Knowledge of U. S. ships and aircraft, a necessity in a well-rounded program, was gained from visits to the Little Creek Amphibious Base and the Norfolk Naval Base. Cadets also obtained oceanographical experience at the Virginia Institute of Marine Sciences.

Successful completion of the three-year program entitled the cadets to exemption from the first year of college level ROTC and consideration for advanced enlisted promotions upon volunteering for active duty in the Navy.

Helping to arrange for the ROTC Military Ball, Mark McCurry makes a list of refreshments to be served.

While Shirley Howes types a letter, Cdr. Edmund Stronski makes up his lesson plans.

Trip To Prepare KHS Students for the Solar Eclipse

To prepare students for the total solar eclipse, the Math Department, headed by Mrs. Charlotte Remaley, sponsored a trip to Hampton Institute. Participating students learned the different stages of the sun in eclipse in order to view the eclipse safely and informatively.

Advance math students this year could select either Calculus BC or Calculus AB, a newly formed syllabus. Calculus AB stressed analytic geometry and trigonometry.

Preparing students for the business world, the Math Department offered general math and consumer math. Other students found themselves taking algebra, geometry, or math analysis.

This year television instructors helped teach probability and statistics, matrix algebra, and Calculus BC. This enabled KHS teachers to concentrate on difficult problems, procedures, and theorems.

Emphasizing a point, Mr. John Wilder from Old Point National Bank talks to a consumer math class.

Sponsors Lectures, Trips to Plants, Conventions

Ron Kirk and Richard Steinberger prepare to determine accurately the resistance of an unknown resistor.

Exploding a firecracker to prove a point about atomic energy, Mr. Ken Green from Virginia Polytechnic Institute began his lecture. In addition to attending such lectures, science students visited the nuclear power plant in Surry County and the Science Convention at the University of Virginia. Through these extra efforts and regular classroom instruction, the members of the Science Department attempted to expose students to the scientific aspects of the technological age in which they live.

Students were given a basic knowledge of science so that they could comprehend such current issues as radiation and pollution, problems that will affect them in the future.

During a chemistry lab John Chester and Joe Lilly precisely weigh their instruments and chemical mixtures to be used.

Cleaning up after his biology experiment, Bill Towson washes one of the slides from his microscope.

During Virginia's Gubernatorial Campaign

Inquiry and discussion were those aspects of instruction most stressed in history related courses. Applying to both students and teachers, these techniques resulted in more emphasis on cause and effect than on the multitude of facts concerning dates and names.

Mrs. Theodora Neilson's American history students learned of Hampton's role during the Civil War period from brief field trips to local museums and monuments.

Senior government students saw democracy in action in a speech by candidate for governor A. Linwood Holton and in Washington, D.C. during a trip to the nation's capital. Jerry Talton, a senior, provided government classes with first-hand knowledge of the General Assembly as he was a messenger during the recent session.

Teachers were encouraged to expand their knowledge and experience in the social sciences by attending professional activities such as meetings of a committee for the United Nations, city council meetings, and participation in political realities.

Mr. E. David Nelson

Huck Finn, Of Mice and Men, and To the Lighthouse are now familiar novels to Kecoughtan students. Some English classes purchased these books in paperback form to supplement their regular literature text.

While studying literary genres, sophomores were introduced to the works of Shakespeare and Chekhov. Juniors and seniors concentrated on American and English literature, respectively. Supplementing the school curriculum was the Paramount enrichment series, movies of classical and contemporary novels.

Many students found outlets for their talent in Mrs. Hayes' creative writing class, a special class for promising writers. Listening to Mozart and Bach and viewing Greek sculptures enlightened Mr. Victor Taylor's humanity students.

Varying levels of English offered each Kecoughtan student a chance to develop his skill at his own rate. The variety of English courses prepared the students for their post-high school plans, both educational and vocational.

Modern plays such as Marat/Sade and Once Upon a Mattress stimulated students' interest in the dramatic arts. The classic play The Crucible and the fantasy Alice in Wonderland lent variety to the season's selections.

Many innovations were employed this year in the field of make-up, as marked by the mosaic face make-up design used in Marat/Sade and Alice in Wonderland. With the help of students, Miss Carole Lushinsky assisted as make-up designer.

Costumes and set design were the focal points in several of the productions. Set design ranged from the platform set of Marat/Sade to the completely mobile set of Alice in Wonderland.

Latin continued to be taught in the traditional manner. The Audio-Lingual method was again used in Spanish, French, and German classes.

Language classes applied their linguistic skills to other areas besides classroom instruction. Students sang Christmas carols and presented skits at an assembly. German students presented "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" in German to the Pembroke German students. Displays publicizing Language Week were also a part of exposing students to all aspects of language.

MADS, new to KHS, explored cultural advancements of the western civilization. Taught on a rotational basis by Mrs. Janie Whiting, Mr. Alexander Villers, Mr. Bentley Anderson, and Mrs. Alice Erickson, the course used a pass or fail grading system to enable students to escape pressure and concentrate on special interests.

Unlike courses which students could forget after class, the Music Department held many activities after school. The A Cappella, directed by Mrs. Lucile Sutterer, and the KHS bands, directed by Mr. Fred Pendergraft, performed at many assemblies, programs, and concerts.

Aiding dramatic arts this year, the Art Department created the backdrop used in Alice in Wonderland. Advanced students analyzed an artist by an in-depth study and a reproduction of his works.

Kecoughtan Students for their Future Careers

Perplexed by the rotary calculator, Peggy Smith listens as Mrs. Nancy Shrout explains its operation.

To prepare students for a business career or college, the Business Department, headed by Mrs. Nancy Shrout, offered a large selection of subjects. General business, typewriting, shorthand, and business law aided both the business student and the college-bound student.

Along with record keeping or book-keeping, these courses were required for advanced vocational and business activities such as office practice and clerical office practice. Qualified seniors who possessed employable office skills were able to put their business and office training in practice when they were involved in cooperative work experience with local business firms.

Distributive education, a three year course at KHS, prepared students for employment and provided on-the-job training in the distributing, retailing, and marketing fields.

Business students developed skills and an understanding of the American economic system in order that they might become more efficient job holders and consumers.

Planning lessons for distributive education, Mrs. Virginia Johnson hears suggestions from Gwen Dassy.

Industrial Arts Students Construct Office, Repair

Operating the metal shop lathe during second period, Gerald Brock makes the leg of a coffee table.

Woodshop students constructed an eight foot heart for the Valentine Dance and applied their knowledge of home-building to construction of a wood-paneled office for Athletic Director Bill Greene. These young men also designed and built their own projects as part of the class curriculum. Construction ranged from coffee tables and speaker cabinets to a complete bed frame built for a faculty member.

Four areas of work were covered by metal shop students. Welding, foundry, machine shop, and sheet metal were taught in all classes. Despite the busy whirl of machines and class activities, students donated their skills for general maintenance in the school. Repairing broken bleachers in the gymnasium was one note-worthy accomplishment.

Drafting classes are included in the Industrial Arts department. Among their other activities, drafting students set up an architectural display in the library. Two students, Harold Nystrom and Thomas Jamison, entered their work in the state drafting contest held in Hopewell.

Dances, Assemblies, Plays and Concerts Highlight the 1969-70 School Year

Affording students an opportunity to display their diverse talents and a chance to develop new ones, special events and activities stimulated the school's curriculum. Flourishes of activity originated with sophomore orientation and persisted through the ICC Carnival to graduation.

Events required planning and interest within the student body to make them successful. Through each project students learned responsibility in discharging their specific duties and budgeted their time wisely in insuring that all aspects of the programs were fulfilled. Students labored together to provide meaningful social and academic highlights to the year at KHS.

Variety in SCA Assemblies Highlights Holidays

At the Thanksgiving assembly the Reverend Louie V. Andrews delivers the invocation.

KHS students celebrated the holidays with skits this year. With Thanksgiving just around the corner, KHS students collected canned food for Thanksgiving baskets. Over three carloads of baskets were donated to a representative of the Salvation Army at the assembly. A skit depicting the Pilgrims' first celebration with the Indians was presented.

Language students, representing people of many lands, portrayed the arrival of Santa Claus. Christmas carols of the countries were also sung by the clubs.

With Valentine's Day drawing near, the SCA sponsored the Newlystead Assembly. Four couples were questioned to determine which couple knew each other the best. The winning couples from the two assemblies were awarded passes to the Valentine Dance.

Easter rounded out the year with a Sing-Out by the Hampton Roads "Up With People" Company.

As emcee of the Newlstead Game, Fred Jackson poses a question to the contestants.

KHS students Julie Neely, Ardys DeBolt, Tommy Parker, and Judy Johnson portray the nativity scene at Christmas.

Band members Peggy Julian, Patti Marchant, and John Minter play the school fight song.

Experiencing confusion and bewilderment, the Sophomore Class struggled to acquaint themselves with the rules and regulations of Kecoughtan.

In an attempt to make the transition easier, the SCA sponsored an assembly designed not only to ease the nervousness but also to inform. The main feature was the traditional skit which pictured the major events of a student's three years at Kecoughtan. The talent show, faculty frolics, the bonfire, Miss KHS contest, pep rallies, and the Ring Dance were presented. The band introduced the students to the alma mater and fight song. Mr. Dyche and other faculty members spoke at the assembly, welcoming the new students.

to Present Successful Fun Night in April

Forcing his way to the basket, Mr. Roper scores two points for the KHS faculty on Fun Night.

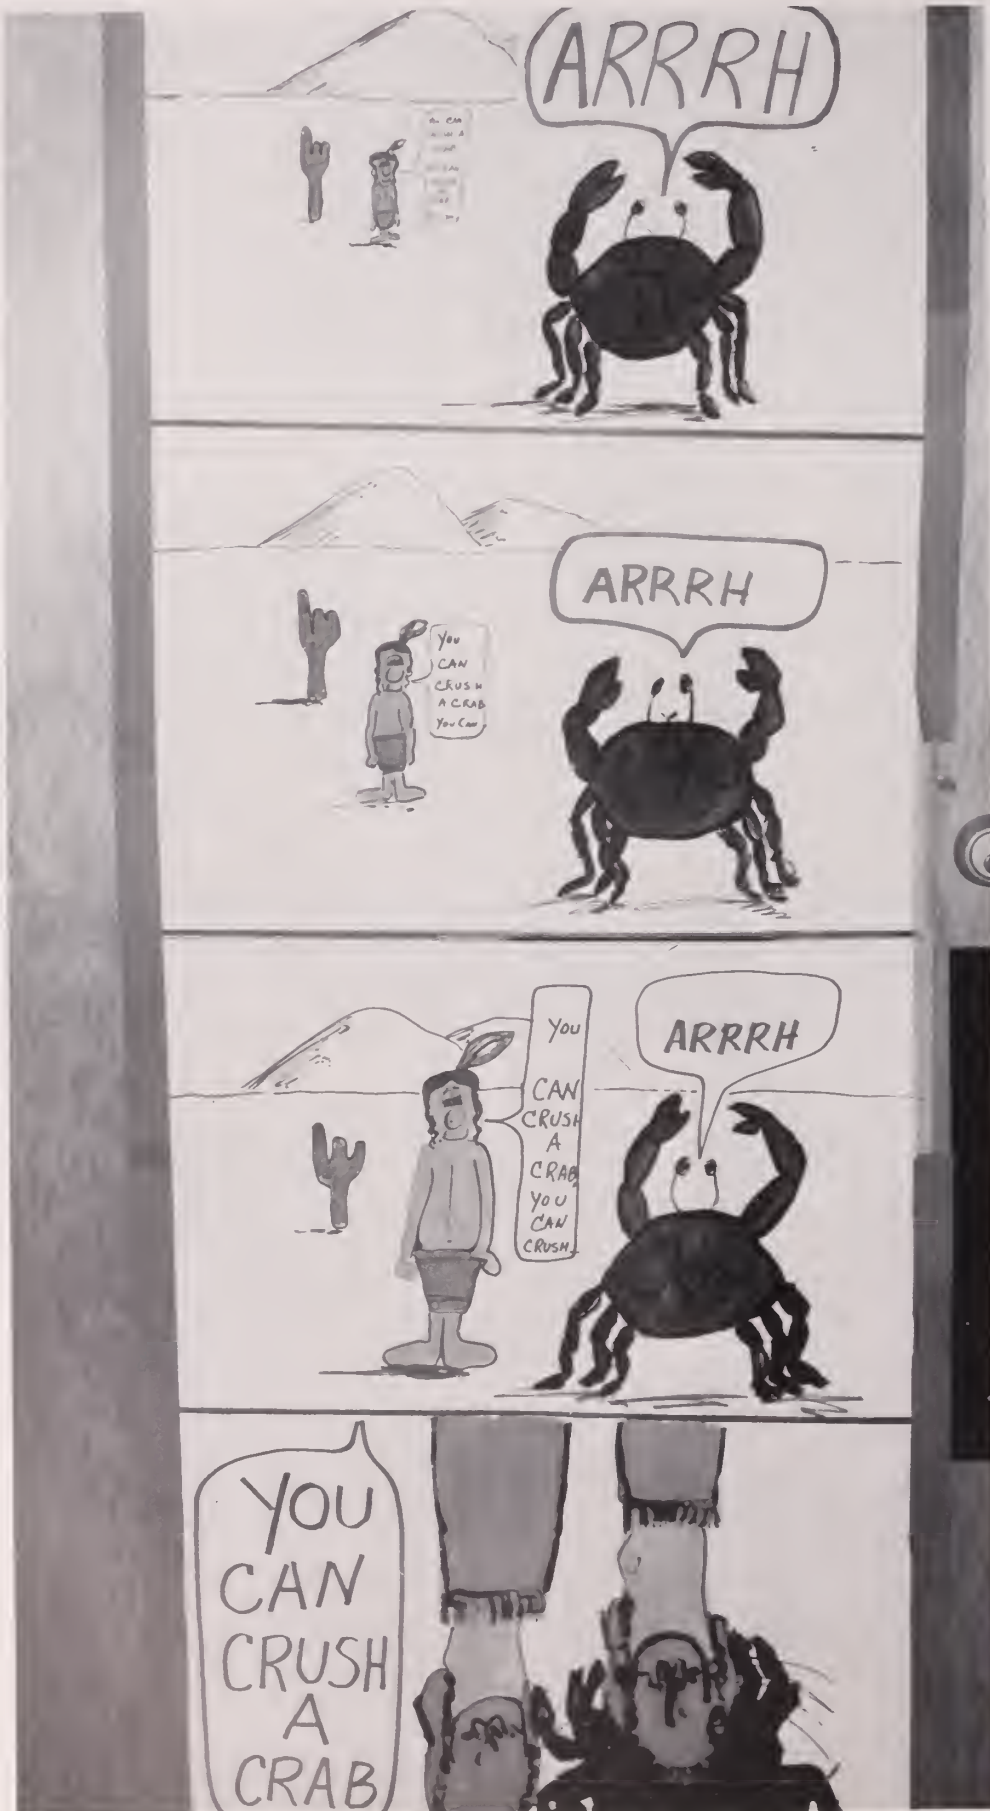

"You can do it, you can do it, do it again!" yelled the KHS cheerleaders to encourage Mr. Henry Roper as he stood at the foul line. Enlivening Sophomore Fun Night this year was a basketball game featuring the Kecoughtan faculty. The faculty battled the combined forces of Buckroe, Spratley, and Benjamin Syms' faculties. The game provided both humor and surprises as the KHS faculty found no difficulty in outshooting their opposition.

Following the game a casual dance was held in the cafeteria. Music for the evening was provided by The Delnotes.

At the Sophomore Fun Night dance Dan Williams and his date enjoy the music of The Delnotes.

Box Drive, Bonfire Highlight Indian Week

Senior homeroom E-7 displays the door that won first prize in the Indian Week door decoration contest sponsored by the SCA.

Beat Hampton! resounded at the ring of the bells as the Warriors got into the spirit of Indian Week. Yelling cheers and chants, students and the band paraded through the halls during both lunches to rouse the spirit from Warriors.

During the week the SCA sponsored a Miss Gorgeous Green and White contest. For a penny a vote students voted for their favorite "lovely" in the school book store. The following contestants competed for the title: Richard Sheppard, Robert Sheppard, George Farr, Don Pizeck, and Charles Mancil. The costumed beauties modeled during both lunches.

After a week of close competition, the box drive ended with the juniors taking first place, the seniors taking second place, and the sophomores taking third place. That night hundreds gathered for the yearly lighting ceremonies that sent 120,000 boxes — the largest number recorded in the school's seven year history — up in flames. The crowning of Richard Sheppard, Miss Gorgeous Green and White for 1969, by Barbara Easter highlighted the pre-game festivities.

Week long activities were concluded on Friday with Indian Day. Of all the students dressed in Indian costumes, Pam Campbell's Indian maiden costume was awarded first prize for originality.

The bonfire blaze illuminates the faces of Kecoughtan Warriors gathered to wish the football team good luck against Hampton.

Wading waist deep in boxes, Robert Sheppard and Al Marable help to clear the gym lobby of boxes headed for the bonfire.

Cathy Hastings Reigns as Queen as 'Warriors Lead the Way'

As the mighty Warriors battled the York Falcons, spectators filled the stands to watch the climax of the 1969 Homecoming festivities.

Action began on Friday with an enthusiastic pep rally. Cathy Hastings, Homecoming Queen, and her court were announced. Later that night the Royal Seven provided the music for the Homecoming dance honoring the queen and her court.

Saturday night hundreds crowded downtown streets for a parade. Floats and decorated cars gave life to the Homecoming theme, "Warriors lead the way." The procession moved to Darling Memorial Stadium for the Homecoming clash.

During the half time crowning ceremonies, the court and their escorts were formally presented. Sidney Lee Lewis, reigning Miss Virginia, assisted Mr. Dyche with the ceremonies.

Trophies for prize winning floats were awarded. For the second year in a row the Class of '70 captured first place. The Interact entry received second place, and the Sophomore class took third place.

Psychedelic Lights Freak Out MARAT/SADE

Hysterical screaming and moaning provided the setting for the KHS fall production. Marat/Sade, a drama of the early French revolutionary period, was written by Peter Weiss and directed by Mrs. Thomas Miller.

In this play within a play, the actors represented the inmates of an insane asylum who acted as the original characters, leaders of the French government.

Dail Miller portrayed the fanatic Marat, and Tom Hope starred as the Marquis de Sade. Drinda Franzen played the part of Charlotte Corday, murderer of Marat; Scott Hawk portrayed her admirer, Monsieur Duperret. The role of the herald was played by Bob Shreve. The chorus included Betty Holloman, Talmage Fauntleroy, Roy Shreve and James New.

Unusual lighting effects highlighted much of the play. The majority of the play was lighted in red and blue with special emphasis placed on the murder scene which was enacted in blood red lights. Psychedelic alternate flashing of red and blue lights stressed the mass hysteria of the last scene. Guy Davis directed the lighting.

Holly Dix and Steve Heffernan laugh maliciously over their evil deeds in Marat/Sade.

Herald, Bob Shreve, explains in an aside the conversation between Charlotte Corday, acted by Drinda Franzen, and Monsieur Duperret, played by Scott Hawk.

Sue Tyrrell Captures 1970 Miss KHS Crown

Sue Tyrrell, Barbara Swanson, and Bonnie Thompson eagerly await the judges' questions.

Truly it was a dream come true as Sue Tyrrell sang the French aria, "Après Un Reve" ("After a Dream") on her way to winning the 1970 Miss KHS crown. Barbara Swanson placed as first runner-up and Bonnie Thompson as second runner-up.

As the nine contestants modeled dating apparel and formals, the audience and judges were given a chance to meet the girls. The talents presented in each act ranged from singing to gymnastics.

Judging the event was Mr. Tommy Forrest, Mr. Ray Carmines and Mrs. Betty Lewis. Miss Sidney Lee Lewis, Miss Virginia 1969, assisted the girls with their grooming and attire.

During a break in the show, the emcee, Dick Lamb, interviewed Miss Lewis. While the judges were making their final decision, Talmage Fauntleroy, a KHS junior, entertained the audience with a medley of songs.

Television played an important role in the Christmas season this year for the members of the chorus and band. During the holidays a special concert was taped and televised featuring the Warriors of KHS. The main presentation in the show was "Russian Christmas Music." Featured soloists were Jane Mayo and Tal Fauntleroy.

A highlight of the Christmas season at school was an assembly presenting the foreign language students singing German, French, Spanish, and Latin Christmas carols.

Besides producing a skit at the assembly, SCA projects consisted of collecting "Toys for Tots" and sending Christmas cards to soldiers in Vietnam.

Keyettes and Key Club members jointly sponsored the annual Mistletoe and Holly Ball. Decorations were arranged and prepared around the theme of an old-fashioned Christmas.

Swanson Crowned as Basketball Queen for 1970

With only seconds to go in the first half, Kecoughtan led Bethel in the 1970 Basketball Homecoming game. Battling throughout the second half, the Warriors fought to win the last home game of the season by a slim margin of only one point.

During the halftime the queen and her court were presented. Claiming the title of Homecoming Queen, Barbara Swanson reigned over the festivities. She had been selected by the senior class earlier in the week.

The remaining members comprising the court included Lynn Gibson, Senior Attendant; Ann Williams, Junior Attendant; and Carla Robinson, Sophomore Attendant. Each girl was presented with a trophy, and the queen received a bouquet of roses.

Music and Comedy Highlight Junior Talent Show

Class sponsor Mrs. Wetzel and Nick Galla review the list of acts auditioning for the talent show.

Bringing down the curtain on their major money making event of the year, the junior class presented a successful talent show.

Danyal Lawson's piano recital of "Warsaw Concerto" earned first place honors for him. Second place honors were claimed by Barbara Swanson for her gymnastic exhibition on the balance beam, while Ingrid Stilson and Bill Porch captured third place with their medley of folk songs. The judging for this year's production was handled by Mrs. Drummond, Mr. McCall, and Mrs. Wilson.

Third place winners Ingrid Stilson and Bill Porch perform an original folk song.

Witchcraft Is Subject of Senior Class Play

Reverend Hale, played by Tom Hope, attempts to exorcise the spirits from Betty Parris, played by Linda Madsen.

Hysteria and hypocrisy marked the action of this year's Senior class play, The Crucible. Abigail Williams, played by Pam Campbell, instigated the superstitious fear of witchcraft that erupted into a panic unparalleled by any in history. The result was the execution of hundreds of men and women who failed to succumb to the pressure to confess.

The production was plagued by the difficulty of attaining costumes of the period, particularly those for the male actors. This problem was overcome through the co-operation of the Community Theatre.

Reverend Hale, played by Tom Hope, tried to enlighten the judges as to the irrationality of their actions. Mary Warren, played by Cathy Hastings, tried to repent only to find herself swept up in the horror she was trying to abolish. Renee Bray as Elizabeth and Carl Thelander as John Proctor fell prey to the onslaught.

An anguished John Proctor, portrayed by Carl Thelander, awaits the decision of the court.

Audience Travels With Alice through Wonderland

Alice, played by Belinda Sikorski, attempts to find some sanity in Wonderland as a card guard, Don Kirk, and the March Hare, Scott Hawk, observe.

Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland was the spring production of the Garrick Circle Players of KHS. Mr. Thomas Miller directed the play with the assistance of student director Yolanda Jones.

Alice, played by Belinda Sikorski, began her fantastic journey through Wonderland by chasing the White Rabbit, Bob Shreve, and falling down the rabbit hole. In the following minutes she attended a wild tea party, participated in the Queen of Heart's croquet game and was chased by the card soldiers. Other main characters included Tom Hope as the Chesire Cat, Lisa Keen as the Queen of Hearts, Ray Williamson as the Mad Hatter, Scott Hawk as the March Hare, and Roy Shreve as the Dormouse.

Drinda Franzen designed the backdrop, and Tom DeBolt painted it with the help of art students. The lighting designer was Gunnar Kohlbeck.

Listening to Lady Larkin's threats to run away, Winnifred the Woebegone and Prince Dauntless look forlorn.

Winnifred Captures Dauntless in Spring Musical

Hilarity was the keynote of the evening as the Garrick Circle Players presented their first musical Once Upon a Mattress. The play by Jay Thompson was a satiric parody of the fairy tale "The Princess and the Pea."

Narrated by the minstrel, Robert Shreve, the play related the true adventures encountered by Princess Winnifred, Betty Holloman, in her bid for Prince Dauntless, Steve Dyer. Custom forbade any marriage until the quiet Prince had taken a bride. Plagued by a mute king and an overbearing, verbose queen, Winnifred found very little aid available to her. Having passed her royalty test, Winnifred not only freed the kingdom from celibacy but the King from his curse as well.

Following the play, Mr. Thomas I. Miller introduced Kecoughtan's first "Academy Award" presentation, the "Irving Award." Robert Shreve was chosen best actor, while Betty Holloman received best actress for her performance in Once Upon a Mattress. Robert Shreve was also named best representative of drama for Kecoughtan.

In Once Upon a Mattress Sue Tyrell hypnotizes Winnifred, played by Betty Holloman.

Clubs Work to Make ICC Carnival Fun for All

Neil Smith, Doug Kirk, and David Quigley man the Varsity Club booth at the ICC Carnival.

With more than twenty clubs participating, the annual ICC Carnival provided fun and entertainment for all who attended. Clubs presented a wide variety of games, services, and concessions.

Games included basketball shooting, fortune telling, coin toss, dart throw, and bingo. The Thespians set up a "Bash Splash" in which the participants tried to dunk a club member in a giant tub. A small catastrophe occurred when the tub broke, flooding the gym floor. DE students operated a photo booth for a minimal charge, and the FHA established a country store where students could purchase members' homemade items. Other attractions included an art sale by the Arts Society and a cake walk by the Keyettes.

Under the direction of Guy Davis, Dale Danielian, and sponsors Mrs. Joel Grimm and Mrs. Dorothy Fleck, work on preparation and organization began long before the carnival date. Clubs were required to submit plans, sketches of their proposed booth, and publicity posters several weeks in advance in order for the organizers to arrange the gym floor layout. Profits and losses for the individual clubs depended on the popularity of each booth.

Funds from Keyette Celebrity Auction Aid Indians

Keyette Vicki Hubert hands an item to Mr. R. Lackey to be sold at the Celebrity Auction.

"What am I bid for . . . this set of solid gold cuff links from Vice President Spiro Agnew . . . this autographed album by the Everly Brothers . . . Mario Andretti's racing jacket . . . this autographed book of poems by Rod McKuen . . .?" This year's Keyette Celebrity Auction featured a multitude of autographed objects from well known personalities along with various goods and services from the KHS faculty.

When the bidding ended, $240 had been exchanged for personal possessions once belonging to their favorite celebrity. The prices ranged from $8 for an Indian bracelet to $18 for an evening at Wedgewood.

All proceeds collected from the sale of the articles were donated to help the American Indians. Kecoughtan's Keyettes joined with fellow Keyettes throughout the United States in the nation-wide effort to aid America's first inhabitants.

"Going once, going twice, sold!" proclaims Auctioneer Saunders at the Keyette auction.

Four Receive Bow and Arrow Award at Assembly

English Department Head, Mrs. Betty Lee Cheney awards a dictionary for outstanding creative poetry.

For the first time in the history of KHS three adults and one student received the Order of the Bow and Arrow. The award was conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Hardrath, Mrs. Joel Grimm, and Guy Davis at the awards assembly for their contributions and assistance to KHS.

Boys' and Girls' State delegates, recipients of ROTC scholarships, literary awards, and Thespians were honored at the assembly. Members of the school's publications also received certificates of merit.

Department heads presented trophies to students whose performance in different subjects had been superior.

Recognition was also given to students who had excelled in various activities earlier in the year. Winners of the oratorical contest, members of the Debate Team, and the staff of Warrior Tom Tom were recognized for their achievements.

Reece and Dyer Lead in Class Standing

Jeff Grimm and Linda McGehee confer with Mr. Dyche after winning the DAR Citizenship Awards.

On the basis of their outstanding high school academic records, Larry Reece was named valedictorian and Steve Dyer salutatorian for the class of 1970. Both addressed the graduating class during the commencement ceremonies.

Linda McGehee and Jeff Grimm were awarded the DAR Good Citizenship Awards. Seniors nominated students in homerooms, and then a faculty committee made the final selection.

Kecoughtan students won five out of the six places in the Elks' Leadership Contest. They were judged on the basis of leadership, citizenship appreciation, perseverance, resourcefulness, and honor. They were also required to compile a brochure. First place winners were Pat Shareck and Barbara Rogers; second place, Barbara Easter and Steve Dyer; and third place, Janice Hardrath.

Kecoughtan also placed a senior in the state-wide oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion. After winning in the city contest, Jerry Talton went on to place in the regional competition, and ultimately achieved third in the state.

Boys' and Girls' State Delegates Gain Experience

"Learning by doing" served as the theme of the program which was sponsored by the American Legion. Students received practical experience by conducting elections and running the various city governments throughout the state.

Juniors nominated fellow students for Boys' and Girls' State for the first time in 1970. A faculty committee then made the final selection.

Qualifications determining eligibility included leadership, patriotism, co-operativeness, character, honesty, scholarship, and physical fitness.

Junior girls who attended Girls' State were Diane Bryant, Julie Neely, Ann Williams, Ardys DeBolt, Eloise Gray, Lisa Keen, and Heather Williams. Alternates were Kathleen McLaughlin, Maria Moll, and Jan Wooten.

Junior boys participating in Boys' State were Mike Williams, Don Pizzeck, Talmage Fauntleroy, Neil Smith, Fain Rutherford, Fred Parker, Don Taylor, and Dan Williams. Alternates were Claude Turner and Mike Newsome.

'70 Ring Dance

Brigadoon, in all of its magic and splendor, provided the setting for the 1970 Junior Ring Dance. Chairman for the biggest event of the year for the juniors was Diane Bryant, assisted by Don Pizzeck.

Under the direction of Vicki Reason, the cafeteria was transformed into a tavern and garden where punch and cake was served to the guests. Alyne Baker and Sandra Styers headed the committee in charge of refreshments. Sue Seaver headed the gymnasium decorations which were organized around the theme colors of blue and silver. All dancing and the ring ceremony took place in the gymnasium.

Pam Davis and Dan Williams obtained the bands for the evening. Adrian and the Sensations and The Royal Seven provided the music for the evening. After the ring ceremony the bands played the theme song, "You've Made Me So Very Happy." Bids and favors were also done in the theme colors and were handed out the week before the dance by Eloise Gray and Nyra Hill and their committee.

Class of 70 Floats "Up, Up, and Away" at Prom

Pausing for refreshments, Steve Dyer and Robert Parker wait to be served by Holly Dix.

On prom night the Senior Class floated "Up, Up, and Away" to the tune of "Scarborough Fair."

Decorations in the gym, based on the class colors of blue and silver, recreated the atmosphere of a late eighteenth century park at night. A gazebo, from which "Adrian and the Sensations" played, and a balloon, which served as the throne for Prom King Charlie Little and Queen Susan Fox, captured the center of attention. Pale blue cheesecloth, suspended by ropes, was used for the ceiling while twenty-three murals achieved the illusion of the out-of-doors.

Decorations in the cafeteria, by use of more murals, were designed to produce the sensation of drifting among the clouds. Refreshments of sandwiches, nuts, cake and punch were served.

Chairmen for this year's prom were Claudia Hale, overall chairman, and Janice Hardrath, overall decorations chairman. Ann Bartley and George Riesbeck shared the responsibility for the gym decorations, while Karen Saunders and Sylvia Spencer had charge of the cafeteria.

Class sponsor Mrs. Sue Weilmuenster stops to chat with Mrs. Joan South and Mrs. Evelyn Hayes.

Dancing in the romantic atmosphere of the gym, Tom Jennings and his date seem oblivious to everything else around them.

Transforming the gym lobby into the out-of-doors, Robert Hunt and John Read lend their assistance and advice in hanging a mural.

Utilizing a pause in the music, weary but contented Giff Murray and George Farr catch 40 winks to brace themselves for the dancing ahead.

Seniors Urged to 'Turn World Upside Down'

Encouraging Kecoughtan's graduating class to "turn the world upside-down for worthwhile changes." Chaplain Robert Burnette gives the main address at the Baccalaureate service.

Proceeding into the auditorium for the Baccalaureate service, the Class of '70 marked the second step toward graduation. The class wore their caps and gowns for the first time.

The Reverend Thomas R. Dyer of the East Hampton Methodist Church gave the invocation after which Chaplain Robert Burnette read the Scripture, 1 Corinthians: 13. The first selection by the A Cappella Choir, "O Divine Redeemer," followed.

Chaplain Burnette of Langley Air Force Base gave the address entitled "Turning the World Upside Down." The stirring and inspirational speech neither patronized nor criticized the youth of America but encouraged and instructed the graduates to go out and "turn the world upside down for worthwhile changes."

The A Cappella Choir preceded the benediction with the selection "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place." The benediction was delivered by The Reverend Samuel E. Hyde of Victory Baptist Church.

The recessional as well as the processional was played by Mr. Norman Voelcker, Professor of Piano and Voice at Hampton Institute. The class then recessed to the cafeteria where a reception was held for seniors, guests, and faculty.

After giving the invocation, Reverend Dyer listens to Chaplain Burnette address the senior class.

Saddened by the thought of leaving their alma mater, senior class officers, Debbie Stewart and Charlie Williams, shed a few tears.

Under the direction of class sponsor, Mrs. Norma Seals, and class president, Debbie Stewart, seniors prepare for the class night processional.

Class of '70 Relives Past Memories at Class Night

During Steve Dyer's narration of past memories, Cindy Jackson, Jeff Grimm, and Rick Jones reenact the beach party at Nags Head on Senior Skip Day.

With Dana Nottingham handling the role of emcee, Class Night relived the students' three years at KHS and provided a look into the future.

The class history was presented in a French cafe scene when Ann Bartley, Cathy Hastings, Steve Dyer and V. O. Keen reminisced over an old scrapbook while other students reenacted the past memories.

With the help of a teleporter, Ingrid Stilson and Fred Jackson located their school champions in the year 1990.

Following Tom Hopes' reading of the class poem, "At the Turning," several awards were presented. Mr. Tom Glascot awarded Pat Shareck the Chris Craft Scholarship. Class keys were given to twenty seniors for their outstanding contributions to KHS. An innovation in Class Night was the announcement of outstanding seniors, Guy Davis, Bill Porch, Jerry Talton, Jeff Grimm, Claudia Hale, Barbara Easter, Debbie Stewart and Vicki Blevins.

Gifts were presented to class sponsors, Mr. Dyche, and other faculty members who had aided the class. Gifts to the school from the graduates were dugouts for the baseball field and numbering of the auditorium seats. The evening concluded with the entire class singing the alma mater, followed by the recessional.

Winner of the L. G. Balfour Key, Claudia Hale accepts congratulations from Principal Harry B. Dyche, Jr.

'70 Graduation

Gleefully, Pat Shareck poses with cap and gown in hand after the commencement exercise.

Anticipated by Impatient Seniors

Graduation exercises held June 14 marked the closing of twelve years of hard work and the realization of a dream come true to 450 departing seniors. For the first time in Kecoughtan's history, the exercises were held off the school grounds in the newly erected Hampton Roads Coliseum.

The Reverend Louie V. Andrews, Jr. of Community Presbyterian Church gave the invocation. Debbie Stewart, Senior Class president, then addressed the seniors for the last time. Stressing the need for the students of today to take an active part in the world in which they live, she encouraged the class to have purpose behind their actions. Salutatorian Steve Dyer was next to deliver his speech in which he spoke of the revolts in the world and the need of the students to alter the situation.

Following the salutatory address, Mr. Harry B. Dyche, Jr., principal of Kecoughtan High School, announced awards and grants received by members of the class of '70. Seniors receiving scholarships were also honored. Two special awards were presented to members of the senior class. The L. G. Balfour Key for the outstanding senior was awarded to Claudia Anne Hale. Debbie Stewart received the Elizabeth Cooke Award.

Advocating participatory democracy, Valedictorian Larry Reece urged the class to lay apathy aside and work for a better society.

Mr. Garland R. Lively, superintendent of Hampton Schools, addressed the seniors and awarded the diplomas. After the last diploma had been awarded, Debbie Stewart led the class in turning the tassel from the right to the left. This signified the final step in graduating.

The Reverend Calvin L. Jones, Jr. of the Queen Street Baptist Church offered the benediction. Directly afterward, a proud and happy class recessed from the Coliseum.

In her final address to her classmates, Debbie Stewart, Senior Class president, stresses the importance of trust in today's society.

Working together, Mrs. Judith Williamson and Miss Debra Smith account for faculty caps and gowns.

Commencement Exercises Are Held in Coliseum

Accepting congratulations from Superintendent Garland R. Lively, James Steinberger receives his diploma.

Making his valedictory address, Larry Reece urges members of his class to take an active interest and participation in their government.

Rushing to meet a deadline, Irene West, Tomahawk staff member, types copy to complete a page.

TOMAHAWK

The 1970 Tomahawk was in offset lithography by Delmar Press, Charlotte, North Carolina, with the assistance of their Tidewater area representatives Mr. Jim Saine and Mr. Jeff Overby. The cover was designed by Mrs. Kathryn B. Dicus and was embossed with one applied color.

All type in the 1970 Tomahawk was Universe with point sizes as follows: headlines, 24 point boldface; introduction, divider, and credit pages, 11 point; body copy, 10 point; captions and identifications, 8 point. All copy is leaded 1 point. Paper stock was 90 pound Mountie Matte.

Credits

Without the help of many, the production of the 1970 Tomahawk would have been impossible. Faculty members devoted much time in assisting with picture sales, picture identification, and copy information.

Giving unselfishly of their time to insure the completion of the 1970 Tomahawk, Mrs. Helen H. Darnell and Mrs. Kathryn B. Dicus served as our advisers. Copy credit is also given to Mrs. Joel B. Grimm, Tribal Tales adviser. Rick Jones and Mike Tolliver have devoted extra time and energy in processing necessary photographs. Mr. Gene Bell of Cheyne's Studio provided color photographs and group pictures for the 1970 Tomahawk.

Students are Thrust Into Business World of the Community

Mushrooming in activity, this age has depended entirely upon manufactured products and industrial services. Students became caught in this web of consumer products in their tremendous and seemingly unending buying power. Local businessmen employed students whose interests in manufacturing and economic trends surged into new channels of thought.

The entire student body also became engulfed in the whirlwind of the business world. Local businesses often lent the school props, flowers, and tools for special functions, and provided scholarships for students to continue their education. Financial aid in advertising became an important part of school concerts, plays, sports programs, and publications. Through the interest of local establishments, support was given to the individual student and to all phases of life at KHS.

NEWPORT NEWS. WE'VE LAUNCHED MORE THAN 500 SHIPS.

But wait 'til you see our encore. When we started out in 1886, we were just a small ship repair yard. We named the company Newport News. Because we were proud to be doing business here.

Today we're the largest shipyard in the world. And we're still proud to call ourselves Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. Because a lot of the people who helped put us where we are today come from right here on the Virginia Peninsula.

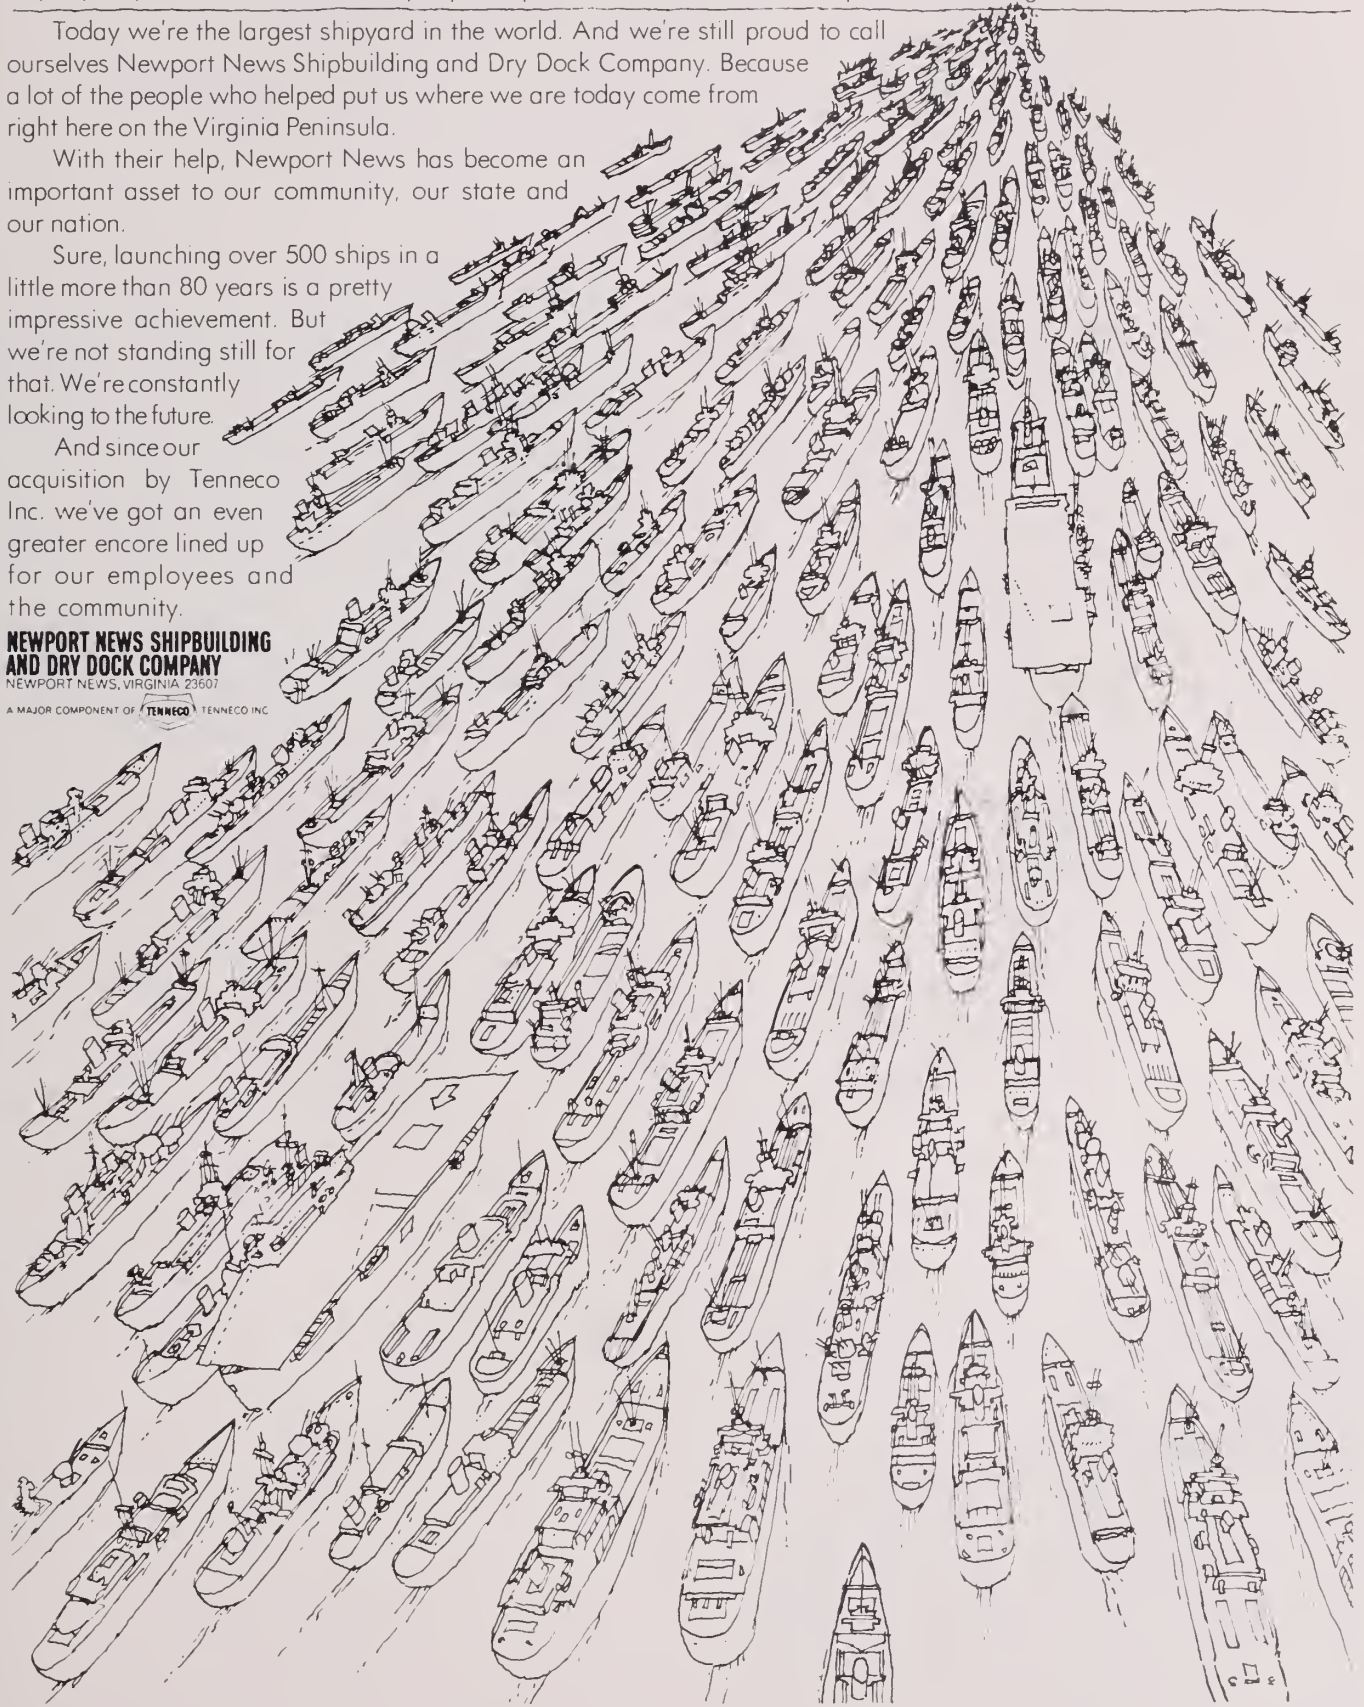

With their help, Newport News has become an important asset to our community, our state and our nation.

Sure, launching over 500 ships in a little more than 80 years is a pretty impressive achievement. But we're not standing still for that. We're constantly looking to the future.

And since our acquisition by Tenneco Inc. we've got an even greater encore lined up for our employees and the community.

Epilogue

Memories are like the tides. Even though they seem to fade, they always come back. At times memories of past events return as only ripples of thought. Yet there are times when they will rush back at a height of fury to reach a peak of outstanding clarity. Times of anticipation, friendships made, and goals realized will be remembered by those who left a part of themselves behind. The tides come in quietly and return in an unmeasurable force. So must each individual reflect on the past and go forward in all of the force of youth, turning the pages to begin new journeys of life.
